Not Spring . . . Just Grease

Causeway strollers — and even the Chamber of Commerce "Spring Comes First to Victoria" boosters — blinked when Joe Huss, Drake Hotel, swam today in Inner Harbor. He wasn't sun-struck by Sunday's summer-like 58° above temperature. He was just in harbor's icy water to try out a new anti-cold grease for long-distance swimmers. Between shivers he reported: "It's no good." (Times Photo.)

AIR PARLEY SILENT FOR TCA CRASH VICTIMS

A one-minute silence in memory of those who died in the North Star crash near Moose Jaw last Thursday was observed as the Air-Industries and Transport Association luncheon opened in Empress Hotel today.

On announcing the silence, T. P. Fox, president of the association, paid special tribute to T. M. Pat Reid, veteran flyer and aviation industry pioneer, who, with his wife, was a victim of the crash. (See funeral story, Page 2).

Mr. Reid was on his way here for the convention. Interviewed earlier, Mr. Fox said the association would make no official statement on the crash until results of the triple inquiry now under way are announced.

'PIECE OF CAKE' SAYS CUNNINGHAM

RAF Pilot to Ram Comet Through 'Death Barrier'

From UP and AP Dispatches
LONDON—One of Britain's best-known test pilots will ram a Comet jet airliner through the mysterious "death barrier" six miles up in hopes of solving the mystery of three fatal crashes.

The date for the flight was not announced.

The pilot is RAF Group Capt. John Cunningham who won the name of "Cat's Eyes" through his ability to spot Hitler's jet bombers during the battle of Britain. He is now chief test pilot for the De Havilland Aircraft Co., which manufactures the Comet.

Cunningham will clutch a microphone in his hand and broadcast a play-by-play account as he rams the Comet through the "death barrier" at full speed. Sir Miles Thomas, director of the British Overseas Airways Corp., has blamed such a "death barrier" for the Comet crashes.

"It's just another piece of cake," Cunningham said in RAF slang as he prepared for the death-defying climb. "The Comets have climbed this way for four and a half years without anything going wrong. I've done it scores of times."

DeHavilland said Cunningham's flight would be made as soon as the company gives new ground checks to the Comet flown to its suburban Hatfield headquarters on Saturday.

A government spokesman said today "the possibility of sabotage cannot be excluded" as a possible cause of the crash of a Comet jet airliner in the Mediterranean last Thursday with the loss of 21 lives.

J. D. Profumo, parliamentary secretary to the ministry of transport and civil aviation, told the House of Commons the possibility of sabotage and "all other possible causes will certainly be fully investigated."

He said there is no possibility of raising the wreck which went down in 3,120 feet of water about 70 miles south of Naples.

The crash was the fourth disaster to these pioneering jet airliners in 13 months. The last two occurred after the planes had taken off from Rome airports.

Will Catch Sons of Rich

HANOI, Indo-China (UP)—The newly-formed Viet Nam war cabinet today ordered the drafting of 140,000 more men in a major win-the-war effort aimed at putting all able-bodied men under arms.

The cabinet's first action in drafting all men aged 20-25, announced in Saigon, coincided with a heavy counterattack by French union forces from their foxholes at Dien Bien Phu in an effort to crush a threatened Communist assault.

It was the second heavy French counterattack of the week-end and came after the Reds made six futile efforts to drive French union forces from a strategic hill overlooking Dien Bien Phu.

The cabinet meeting under Premier Prince Buu Loc, estimated the draft would increase the Viet Nam army by 140,000. The gain will not be larger, officials said, because many young men already have volunteered.

The order was aimed mainly at more even distribution of military service. No longer will rich sons be able to buy exemptions or join one of the numerous religious private armies to dodge national service.

Severe penalties were prescribed for draft dodgers but delinquents will have until April 30 to join up without sanction.

Bloody close-quarter fighting was in progress around the hill which overlooks both the besieged fortress and the Communist positions east of Dien Bien Phu. It is only half a mile from the French command headquarters.

It was the second big French union counter-attack of the week-end. In the first Col. Christian De Castries sent tanks to the hill to save the French and loyal Viet Nam troops who had beaten back five battalions of Communist attacks.

Courtenay Couple Wed in Hospital

VANCOUVER (CP)—A ward in Vancouver General Hospital became a wedding-chapel Sunday night. A young Courtenay, B.C., couple, Claude Armstrong, 23, and Rita Obermuller, 19, forestalled a possible third postponement of their wedding after Armstrong was injured in a fall accident. Armstrong, who suffered a crushed hand, signed with an "X."

JANITOR STRIKE CLOSES 17 LANGLEY SCHOOLS

LANGLEY PRAIRIE (BUP)—Seventeen public schools were closed in this Fraser Valley centre by a strike of 22 service employees today.

School engineers, maintenance men and custodians walked out to back up demands for a 5-per-cent pay hike. The boost was recommended by a conciliation board but refused by Langley school trustees.

The strikers said school board officials refused to conduct negotiations, giving as an excuse that they had no time for a meeting.

'Go Ahead' Signal Given on Buttle

Reservations Clamped on All Land, Minerals To Clear Way for Construction of Dam

By TOM GOULD

The longest and bitterest water rights battle in the history of B.C. appeared at an end today with clear indications that a start on Buttle Lake storage dam will be made this year.

A reservation has been clamped on all land and minerals bounding Buttle Lake, Campbell River and Upper Campbell Lake, to clear the way for construction.

B.C. power commissioners have reviewed the controversial dam project, and are unanimous in support of past evidence backing construction of the storage dam. It is learned.

ANNOUNCEMENT SOON
An official announcement on the issue is expected shortly.

The Crown reservation encompasses all land and minerals below the 800-foot contour bounding Buttle Lake, Campbell River and all tributaries, and a 750-foot contour bounding Campbell River and Upper Campbell Lake.

Conservationists led by Roderick Haig-Brown have protested the project since it was first advanced in 1951, when hearings were held at Courtenay and Victoria.

The dam will raise the level of Buttle Lake a maximum of 29 feet, and would store 15.56 billion cubic feet of storage to (Continued on Page 26)

Spaak Back

Three times Socialist prime minister of Belgium, Paul-Henri Spaak, was back in the political spotlight today as a result of Sunday's general election which broke the Catholic Party's majority in parliament. Under a coalition government Spaak is almost certain to become foreign minister and may even be prime minister. Today Prime Minister Jean Van Houtte formally tendered his government's resignation but was asked to stay in office as head of a caretaker government until party negotiations have produced a new cabinet. ## Dulles Presses Eden To 'United Action'

(From AP and UP Dispatches)

LONDON—Britain has rejected John Foster Dulles' proposal for an immediate warning to Communist China against further intervention in the Indo-China war, diplomatic sources in London said tonight.

In talks with Dulles here today, Foreign Secretary Eden said Britain could not agree to a western warning to Peiping before the Geneva conference on the Far East opens in two weeks, the sources said.

The U.S. state secretary is understood to have accepted Eden's argument that nothing must be done now to jeopardize any chances of a negotiated Indo-China truce at the Geneva talks with Russia and Communist China.

However, Dulles and Eden agreed in principle to sponsor a "Pacific pact," aimed at deterring Communist aggression in Southeast Asia along the lines of the 14-nation Atlantic pact, the London sources said. It would be set up if the Geneva conference failed to bring peace in Indo-China.

TWO OBJECTIONS

Eden is said to have outlined these objections to an immediate warning to the Chinese Communist government:

1. A declaration of common aims in the Far East cannot be rushed. The British government must prepare public opinion, which is wary of any involvement in new Korea, for the contemplated united front moves.

2. There is no new development in the Indo-China war which justifies hasty counter-measures. The onset of the rainy season early next month will slow military operations in Indo-China and give the West a chance to plan a careful program of action.

GO SLOW POLICY

Another factor in the government's go-slow policy is the opposition of two of Britain's Asian Commonwealth partners—India and Pakistan—to British involvement in what they regard as the "Indo-Chinese colonial war."

The U.S. secretary puts his arguments directly to Churchill tonight, when he dines with the prime minister at 10 Downing Street.

The opposition Labor party meanwhile stepped up demands that Churchill tell Dulles that not "a single British man or gun" will be used in Indo-China.

In Paris, where Dulles files Tuesday to see Premier Laniel and Foreign Minister Bidault, the French cabinet today was reported fearful that strong public words to the Reds now would doom in advance any chance of negotiating an Indo-Chinese peace in Geneva.

That also is the British government's view.

FEW FOR TALKS

Dulles flew here Sunday from Washington to press his contention that the West can negotiate with the Communists in Geneva only from a "position of strength," and that such a position can be reached only through the strong declaration of united action.

The two diplomatic chiefs began their discussions informally Sunday night at dinner, at the home of the U.S. ambassador, Winthrop Aldrich.

700 MAU MAU ROUNDED UP

NAIROBI, Kenya (CP)—More than 700 Mau Mau supporters have been rounded up into special prison camps in the last 24 hours in the first phase of a new offensive against the terrorists. The offensive was launched at dawn Sunday after the breakdown of talks on a mass surrender of terrorists, British Army headquarters said today.

5 Violent B.C. Deaths On Week-End

VANCOUVER (BUP)—Five persons died violently in British Columbia during the week-end.

Gordon Byrnes, 12, of Vancouver, was found lying at the bottom of the crowded Crystal swimming pool Saturday. His body was noticed by lifeguard Ted Delmonico. It was not known how long he was at the bottom of the pool before being discovered.

Sixty-four-year-old Thomas Whitman, of Vancouver, was pinned under a falling log at the Emerald Logging Company Camp at Kelsey Bay. An inquest was ordered.

Lawrence Albert Cain, 42, of Vancouver, was found hanging from a beam in a partly-completed house near his home. John Rissonen and Paddy Heines were found by Canadian navy frogmen in the cab of their submerged truck in Mara Lake near Sicamous.

6 Victorians On Troopship From Korea

Six Victorians and a man from Nanaimo are among 1,400 Canadian soldiers who reached Seattle on a troopship from Korea this morning.

Loaded with souvenirs and mementos from their year's service in the Far East, the bulk of returning soldiers are of the 3rd Battalion, Royal Canadian Regiment.

Fifty-eight of the returnees are from British Columbia. Remainder boarded trains that will take them to prairie and eastern homes.

Only Islander officer among the RCR's was Lieut. R. L. Munson, Nanaimo.

VICTORIANS LISTED

RCR personnel from Victoria on the troopship are Privates T. S. Dick and J. G. Stewart.

With other Canadian units on the troopship are Victorians Cpl. M. J. McKinnon (4th Field Squadron, RCE), Cpl. J. E. Ewen, Sapper W. J. Wedgewood and S-Sgt. D. S. Hardisty.

EASTER SERVICE

WESTMINSTER ABBEY GIFT FOR CATHEDRAL SANCTUARY

First morning communions and holy masses of Holy Week were observed today as many Victorians attended church before the beginning of their work day.

Hundreds of others ate a quick lunch and reached Christ Church Cathedral by 12.15 for the noon-day service conducted by Dean Northcote Burke of Vancouver. Dean Burke will conduct the 12.15 to 12.40 service again Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Dean Philip Beattie announced at Christ Church Sunday that Easter Day service will feature the dedication by the archbishop of a new dossal, made from hangings used in Westminster Abbey during the Coronation. The dossal, the gift of an anonymous donor, will hang in the sanctuary.

Special Holy Monday observances set for this evening include a rally at Central Baptist Church at 8 p.m. at which Rev. Alfred Bayne will show slides and give a talk on the work of the Children's Pacific Coast Mission.

Also at 8 this evening, Miss Hazel Solomon, Canadian dramatic soprano, who has been participating in a pre-Easter series of meditations here, will give a full recital at First Baptist Church.

$1 Billion Foreign Aid Program Urged by CCF MP

CHICAGO (BUP)—A Canadian Member of Parliament urged Saturday night that his country boost its foreign economic aid program 40-fold and spend $1,000,000,000 a year on assistance to underdeveloped countries.

Hazen Argue, socialist-MP for Assiniboia, Sask., told the United Automobile Workers (CIO) education convention that Canada "should take the lead" by cutting defense expenditure and put more money into technical and economic assistance to other countries.

"Even though we are in the black night of the hydrogen bomb," Argue said, "the world can yet be saved by a great act of statesmanship on the part of North America—an act that will lift humanity out of the degradation of disease and filth and hunger. A great, generous

IN COMMONS

Tory Stand On Quebec Tax Awaited

OTTAWA (BUP)—The tax fight Quebec Premier Maurice Duplessis is waging with the federal government was expected to be one of the main debating points in the budget debate starting in the Commons today.

The House will have three days to talk about Finance Minister D. C. Abbott's 1954-55 revenue-raising program before the members go home Wednesday night for Easter.

The stand the official Conservative opposition will take on the Quebec income tax question had aroused speculation.

Duplessis' National Union government imposed a 15 per cent tax this year and hoped that all of it would be made deductible from the federal tax. But Finance Minister D. C. Abbott rejected the idea in his budget speech last Tuesday. He said only five per cent will be deductible.

EASTER, 1898—This elaborate egg was created by Carl Fabergé, jeweler to the Czarist Russian court in 1898. Czar Nicholas II presented the gift to the Dowager Empress Marie Feodorovna. Rose, diamonds, rubies, pearls and other gems adorn the egg. Three oval miniature portraits of the Czar and his daughters, the Grand Duchess Olga and Tatiana, emerge from inside the egg at the touch of a push-button.

A Canadian Press survey shows traffic accidents caused six deaths, fires five. One person died after a fall and another was drowned.

Ontario had four fire deaths, three traffic fatalities and one drowning. Nova Scotia's and Quebec's toll were caused by highway accidents, and the one death in Newfoundland was blamed on a fire.

In New Brunswick a sailor was killed when he fell from a pier and fractured his skull. Two children and two elderly persons were killed in the four Ontario fires Sunday.

Jean LaPointe, 17, and her seven-year-old brother, Murray, were burned to death when a kerosene explosion set fire to their five-room frame home at Wilkesport, halfway between Chatham and Sarnia.

Firemen said the girl apparently was using kerosene to light the stove while her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry LaPointe, were doing the morning chores in the barn.

The father was burned about the face when he tried unsuccessfully to fight his way into the house to rescue them. Two other children, Ross, 10, and Roy, seven, climbed out a window, but Ross was critically burned. He was taken to a Sarnia hospital.

Mrs. Frank Van Luven, an octogenarian, was suffocated when fire broke out in her Nanaimo home. She was too crippled by arthritis to reach a window and open it.

William Merkley, 64, suffocated in his sleep during a minor fire at his Midland home. Three men who were passing the home pulled him out, but firemen were unable to revive him.

A fourth fire destroyed the club house of the Stratford Golf and Country Club, causing about $50,000 damage. No one was hurt.

Nova Scotia Premier In Hospital for Rest

HALIFAX (CP)—Premier Angus L. Macdonald entered hospital Saturday for a rest and check-up.

Compromise Averts Lindsay Power Crisis

LINDSAY, Ont. (BUP)—A possible shutdown of power to 10,000 residents was averted over the week-end when 13 civic hydro workers accepted a compromise proposal to end their two-day strike.

Tito in Turkey

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP)—President Tito landed on Turkish soil today for a week-long state visit. An extraordinary security guard gave the visiting marshal a look at some 8,000 or more fighting men of his partner in the Greek-Yugoslav-Turkish defense pact, and a flotilla of Turkey's warships as well.

HARVARD PILOT—P.O. Thomas A. Thoral, a NATO student from Fife, Scotland, was pilot of the Harvard trainer which collided with the TCA North Star over Moose Jaw last Wednesday. The flier, who had been engaged to Donna Brodie, daughter of Ald. S. D. Brodie of Moose Jaw, was among 37 killed.

No Reflection On RCAF Says Pilots' Chief

WINNIPEG (CP)—Capt. A. R. Eddie, managing director of the Canadian Air Line Pilots' Association, said in a statement Saturday it was a "tragic and expensive mistake" to locate military airports on the airways. He urged that they be removed to remote areas.

He made no direct reference to the collision of a trainer and a TCA airliner at Moose Jaw Thursday which took 37 lives.

Capt. Eddie made the statement in amplifying a report of his verbal comments at Edmonton Friday. Following is the text of his statement: "Yesterday I gave a verbal statement to the press which in general was faithfully reported. However, in one important particular, condensation changed the sense of what I said. The complete paragraph as I said it was substantially as follows:

"All line pilots are not a light-hearted lot; they take a professional approach to and a sober view of their responsibilities. This is frequently not the case with the air force student. By this I do not mean to imply that commercial pilots are any better than air force pilots, but the fact is that the two types under discussion are at different stages in their career, and they don't mix well in the air."

"Part of the above was unfortunately omitted in printing but the complete thought certainly expressed no disparagement of the RCAF and its performance, and I should like to see this made clear."

Moose Jaw Prays for TCA Crash Dead

Civic Ceremony Marks Disaster

MOOSE JAW (CP)—Moose Jaw bowed its head in prayer, Sunday, for the 37 victims of Canada's worst airlines disaster.

A special civic memorial service attended by ministers of all faiths, Premier Douglas of Saskatchewan, Mayor Louis Lewry, the city council and more than 1,000 citizens was held Sunday. A special Roman Catholic service was held later.

Flags atop business premises and all government buildings and institutions flew at half staff from noon to sundown.

The services were held as trains sped east and west carrying bodies of the dead to hometowns for burial. Five of the victims were still unidentified, but coroner Dr. J. M. Hourigan said some of the bodies were expected to be identified today.

MAKESHIFT MORGUE

Bodies of the dead had been lying in a makeshift morgue at the Moose Jaw armory since Thursday when an RCAF Harvard training plane sliced into the wing of a Trans-Canada Air Lines North Star 6,000 feet above this city.

The 35 passengers and crew aboard the airliner died in the plunge to earth and the following fire. The RCAF pilot was killed and a cleaning woman died when the North Star crashed into a house, demolishing it.

Names of the dead were read at the special afternoon service at Zion United Church by Mayor Lewry. The number attending overflowed into the church basement and a loud-speaker was set up.

VANCOUVER (AP)—Memorial services for the 13 B.C. persons who perished in the crash of a TCA airliner at Moose Jaw last Thursday will be held here Monday.

Restaurant owner Oscar Blank, 45, will be buried following services in Beth Israel Synagogue. A memorial service for the other 12 victims will also be conducted by Rabbi David C. Kogan.

Victoria's Shower of Flowers 'Wonderful Show', Say Calgarians

BY DON INGHAM

Congratulations on Victoria's "gift" of 10,000 daffodils each to Calgary and Edmonton reached Victoria almost as soon as the goodwill party of the Chamber of Commerce that figuratively "dropped the daffs" over the two cities.

Actually the blooms, with suitable greeting cards, were dropped by commercial air service firms as the 32 Victorians arrived at the airports of the respective cities by special aircraft.

The first of two letters, received here from Calgary's G. Pilkington, informed the chamber that "this generous gesture cannot help but promote the friendliness of relations between the citizens of Victoria and Calgary which should accrue to the benefit of both."

Fred McGregor received a second from a business associate in Calgary, who had been sent clippings from the Victoria Daily Times regarding the proposed flowery gesture.

"He told me he had found one, and that he was sending it back to Victoria as proof of its safe arrival in Calgary," Mr. McGregor said. "He said it was a wonderful show and a great idea, that should create a strong feeling of friendship."

The chamber's goodwill travelers, while weary on their arrival at Patricia Bay airport Saturday at 11 p.m., felt the four-day journey had been worth while.

Saturday, last day of the trip, was spent in a tour of the Leduc-Woodbend oil field, that supplemented a drive through Edmonton's east side refinery area on Friday.

Jean Spedding, 19-year-old Miss Daffodil, was guest of honor at both a visit to "Imperial Leduc No. 615," a well that is being drilled and will be producing within a few days, and at a luncheon given by the Devon Chamber of Commerce.

Devon, in the heart of the oil fields, is the site of the Leduc gas conservation plant that provides commercial gas to Edmonton and other towns from products that in previous years were wasted.

The Victorians were the first "good will" guests of the new chamber.

Mayor George Thompson extended greetings on behalf of the oil city, and Don Smith, former Victoria alderman, and Junior Chamber of Commerce members described the work of Jaycees.

Joe To Be Charged With Criminal Libel

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI)—Herman (Hank) M. Greenspun, publisher of the Las Vegas Sun, plans to seek a county grand jury indictment for criminal libel against Sen. Joseph McCarthy, charging the Wisconsin congressman called him an admitted ex-Communist.

Greenspun announced his intention to seek the indictment Sunday night. At the same time he said he would have his attorneys find out whether there are federal libel laws under which the Republican senator could be charged.

The publisher has announced he will ask the justice department to prosecute all newspapers, wire services and radio and television stations which used the story of his recent federal indictment on charges he used the mails to incite "the murder or assassination" of McCarthy.

He contends that all news media which sent the story of the indictment through the mails are guilty of violating the same federal statute.

Jilted Suitor Kills Rival With Shotgun

Whidbey Island Scene Of Love Triangle

COUPEVILLE, Wash. (AP)—A jilted suitor shot and killed his rival with a shotgun as the rival and the woman—the third corner in the love triangle—strolled along a Whidbey Island beach Saturday night.

(Whidbey Island is 33 miles south of Victoria.)

Island County Sheriff Tom Clark identified the victim as Stewart Worrell, 31, a mortgage firm employee from Seattle.

The sheriff arrested and obtained a 20-page statement from Finis Joel Templeton, 33, also from Seattle.

And at her Edmonds home, north of Seattle, Miss Gayle Matzen, 34, was confined on doctor's orders after having four shotgun pellets removed from her arm and back. Her doctor forbade any police interviews until today.

Sheriff Clark, quoting from the statement, said Templeton fired on the couple from brushland about sunset as they walked along the beach near Possession Point, near the southern tip of Whidbey Island in Puget Sound.

The bleeding Miss Matzen, infuriated by the shooting, ripped the shirt and undershirt from Templeton after tearing the shotgun from his hands, breaking it into the sand and into the brush.

Clark said after Templeton subdued her, he telephoned authorities and surrendered without resistance.

Wounds Kill Alleged Boss Of Dope Ring

CHICAGO (AP)—The reputed chairman of a $10,000,000 dope ring died of bullet wounds Sunday night, two days after he and his brother were shot down in gangland style.

Anthony Pape, 40, had been wounded eight times in the head, back and arms. His brother, James, 36, apparently an innocent victim, was killed instantly Friday night. He was shot twice in the head and once in the neck.

Police and federal agents said the killers apparently were in the back seat of the Pape automobile and jumped out of the car when it hit a building.

James Pape was a post office clerk who had no record, but federal agents said Anthony was arrested March 16 and charged with being the head of a multi-million-dollar wholesale narcotics ring.

Anthony died without telling police whether or not he knew who mowed down himself and his brother.

Police said they believe that fear that Anthony Pape was going to tell federal authorities about a counterfeit ring, in an attempt to escape the dope charge, prompted the slaying.

RATTLESNAKE ROUND-UP NABS 1,576

OKENA, Okla. (AP)—Nearly a ton of venomous rattlesnakes, buzzing their defiance were captured alive in Salt Creek Canyon Sunday in the 15th annual rattlesnake roundup.

The bizarre "sporting event" drew an estimated 20,000 persons from 26 states. The foray into the reptile-infested gypsum hills was sponsored by the International Association of Rattlesnake Hunters.

Joe Durham, chief rattler, said 1,576 snakes were snared, either with forked sticks, special snake-catching tongs or by the braver souls with bare hands.

Government Of Belgium Admits Defeat

BRUSSELS, Belgium (Reuters)—The ruling Socialist Christian (Catholic) Party of Premier Jean Van Houtte early today conceded defeat in the fourth post-war Belgian general election.

Loudovic Moversoen, Catholic interior minister, said the party had lost its slim majority in parliament and had dropped 10 per cent of the country's total votes as compared with the last election.

He said the Socialists and Liberals had gained, but the Communists had lost about 30 per cent of their following.

Observers here expect negotiations will begin today to decide what coalition will rule—whether the Socialists will have for allies the Liberals, the Catholics, or both.

Whatever the combination, Paul-Henri Spaak, Socialist former premier and outstanding advocate of European unification, is considered certain to become foreign minister, and possibly prime minister, too.

Van Houtte's single-party government had ruled for four years with a slender majority.

Father of 3 Children Stunned by Loss of Wife

MOOSE JAW, Sask. (CP)—Jobless Steve Hadwen, left with three small children after Canada's worst air line disaster killed his wife, still was stunned.

The 44-year-old laborer found it hard to fathom how his wife, doing charwoman's work in a Moose Jaw house, could be taken from him and their children by a mid-air collision between two planes 6,000 feet above the city.

Martha Hadwen, 36, was the lone ground victim of Thursday's crash of a Trans-Canada Air Lines North Star and an RCAF training plane which claimed 37 lives. The North Star's funeral pyre was the house in which Mrs. Hadwen was working.

Looking around at his children in their meagre three-room frame shack, the former farmer spoke haltingly but firmly in an interview. Of his motherless children, he said:

"I am going to keep the children with me, no matter what."

A Bill of Rights

THE LEGISLATURE IS RIGHT in refusing to pass a provincial bill of rights, but the Government is quite wrong in saying that no such bill is needed. It is needed as never before, but it must be a bill passed by the Parliament of Canada to cover all Canadians equally.

Speaking for the Government, Attorney-General Bonner has shown some appreciation of the national scope of the question. If there is a case for the Bill of Rights, it is national, he says, with provincial governments acting in conjunction with the federal authority. But he says there is no need anyway for a Bill of Rights. He should observe what Mr. Duplessis has done to civil rights in Quebec.

While Mr. Bonner assumes they are not an issue, are fully guaranteed under the principles of our law, the fact is that the Quebec Government and Legislature have imposed upon their citizens a provincial law repealing the most basic civil rights of assembly, free speech and publication. And in doing so Quebec has attempted to establish the principle that there is really no Canadian citizenship at all, but a series of ten provincial citizenships, each varying in their rights, as decided by provincial authorities.

The motives of the CCF in demanding a provincial bill of rights are commendable but they would play straight into the hands of adventurers like Mr. Duplessis, who say that the human person's rights in Canada are under provincial control. If there are any basic rights in Canada, if there is any national citizenship, indeed if there is any nation, they must be universal and invariable, applicable to all Canadians wherever they may live.

The duty of resisting Mr. Duplessis' invasion of the Canadian constitution and of the people's fundamental liberties rests with the Parliament of Canada. Oddly enough, Parliament has not voiced a murmur at the spectacle of Quebec's new law, ironically called the Freedom of Worship Act, though it undertakes to abduct Parliament's most vital powers. The Federal Government, which sees its powers threatened, has not raised a finger in protest. It may expect the courts, some time hence, to throw out the Quebec law but there is no assurance on that score. The original decision of the Supreme Court in the Jehovah's Witnesses case suggests just the opposite. When the Alberta Government of the late William Aberhart attempted to censor the press, the Federal Government of the late Mackenzie King disallowed the Alberta law. It is not disallowing the Quebec law or even referring it to the Supreme Court for an opinion on its validity. All our political parties in Parliament apparently are terrified of Mr. Duplessis.

Until he got away with his infamous padlock law and lately broadened its principles into a general censorship of free opinion, it was assumed that Canada needed no bill of rights, that all citizens were protected by the common law inherited from England. That assumption no longer holds, if the Quebec law remains on the statute books, to be enforced not only against a religious sect but anyone else whom the Quebec Government happens to dislike.

It is not necessary or perhaps desirable for Canada to imitate the detailed constitutional amendments known in the United States as the Bill of Rights. We only need a very brief and simple amendment to the preamble of the British North America Act, the Canadian constitution, declaring that basic liberties, like free speech and assembly, are under the sole jurisdiction of Parliament and can never be infringed without a change in the constitution.

With that safeguard Canadians' individual rights and their national citizenship will be safe. But no one in Ottawa so far has proposed such an obvious remedy and the British Columbia Government, like other Governments in Ottawa and in the provinces apparently, is not interested.

Mr. Webster introduced the subject with the best of intentions but in the wrong way. If he is interested, let him propose a national bill of rights and ask the Legislature to support him in urging it upon Parliament. Assuredly, if he cannot move the Social Credit Government, he should have the support of the Liberal Party, if it has not forgotten its principles.

Power Costs and Buttle

PREMIER BENNETT HAS INFORMED the Legislature that action on the proposed Buttle Lake dam is up to the B.C. Power Commission. The direct implication of his statement is that decision should be reached by the commission on the basis of engineering data.

Mr. Bennett does not appear anxious to avoid responsibility for policy on the question—which he could not—but he wants the commission to assure itself that the construction is feasible.

One other vital factor, however, should be taken into consideration before any decision is reached, and that factor is one to which the Premier and his Government must address themselves: Will extra power made available by construction of the suggested Buttle Lake dam be as cheap as that brought across to the Island from the mainland by the B.C. Electric's proposed cable?

If it is not, then there can be little valid argument for the dam on straight economic lines. Once that issue is decided, then the weight of the conservationists' case could completely over-balance any submissions of the dam protagonists.

One point and one only can be advanced by those who wish to dam the lake. They can claim justification only if no alternative adequate source of power can be found at reasonable cost to consumers.

The public wants cheap power. So does industry and so will new industry considering plants on the Island. Before the B.C. Electric announced its plans to lay the cable from the mainland, the issue was clear. The authorities had to determine whether the lovely lake of Strathcona Park was to be sacrificed to the urgent demands of industry. There is no such clarity today. An alternative source of power has been advanced.

To the present, the public has not been given the assurance it needs to condone possible destruction of the park. Before it can form a reasonable opinion, and before the authorities can justify the dam, a great deal more exploration of the cable's possibilities is needed.

And the results of that study, including published opinion of experts, must be widely circulated before steps are taken which could do irreparable damage to Buttle Lake.

To Be Remembered

MAYOR HARRISON, WHO ENTERED municipal politics on a platform paraphrasing the famous policy of "open covenants openly arrived at," has found sufficient aldermanic support to force through city council his "secrecy" by-law.

Protection for the Fisheries

AMENDMENTS NOW BEFORE the Legislature will put teeth in the provincial Fisheries Act and assure better protection for the fishing industry in cases where power or other developments interfere with the normal flow of rivers.

Heretofore the Act did not give adequate protection to fisheries. With the amendments, it will require approval of the Fisheries Minister before construction starts on dams or other obstructions to salmon runs. These must not be installed without his permission. Hence the threat of damage to spawning runs can be averted before it is too late.

He and his backers will live to regret the action. The public, whose servants council members are, will note the changes in city hall procedure, made effective despite widespread public protests.

Here is something the voters will remember in December.

—a logical procedure which was not provided for in the original legislation.

The move has received the full endorsement of the fishing industry, which sees the advantage of co-operation with other industries while power developments are still in the planning stage. While the Federal Fisheries Act covers some aspects of the problem, the provincial measure complements it and covers areas beyond Federal jurisdiction.

Fisheries Minister Ralph Chetwyld is to be commended for his efforts in this regard and it is to be hoped that his bill will have early passage by the Legislature.

'Look, Fellas, I'm a Sheep!'

Chips

BY DAVID BROCK

MR. MALCOLM MUGGERIDGE, editor of Punch, was saying in a speech the other day (a speech to Canadians) that Americans demand new jokes, while the English prefer good old vintage jokes.

Well, far be it from me to get serious about the funny stuff, or even to be a clown with a breaking heart. But I must say I expected something more accurate from one of the world's joke bosses. Even The New Yorker and its readers are very fond of familiar jokes which follow an exact formula, and in which all the drawings are very much like each other. Mr. Peter Arno feels that you will start to roar the minute you see a picture of a rich old business man pursuing a young woman. Mr. Coburn feels he has never extracted the final laugh from his endless series of pictures which show a woman with her clothes on and a man who imagines her disrobed.

The sinister family of Mr. Charles Addams behaves true to its type, with few surprises left in the bag from which it slunk. I love it, but I'm used to it. The late Miss Helen Hokinson was not only at home with pictures of women addressing women's clubs, but she made the reader feel that he too had indeed been there before. She was almost universally considered an extremely subtle wit, but to feel superior to a bore is only a very minor subtlety, and all she usually did was to keep repeating that bores are boring or that ignorance is ignorant, points which have cropped up quite often.

AS for what Americans demand of radio comedians in the way of new jokes, why, these audiences are no different from English radio audiences. They want the comedian to use the same joke every week, the same phrases that weren't funny at the start but which have become funny by custom, as it were. You identify each comedian by his pet phrase, and each time he repeats it you grow more proud of him and of yourself, and more hysterical. On the stage this pointless repetition has always been a minor menace. . . . the comic Yorkshireman says "Ee, ba goom" on his first entrance in Act One, and nobody laughs, but by the time he says it for the tenth time in Act Three the house is howling. And in the lobby afterwards, half the people are saying "Ee, ba goom" to the other half. . . . and saying it free of charge, which is a very disinterested form of wit, and amateurism at its best.

WHEN I was sixteen I took a girl to a play called "I Think 'Hobson's Choice'". I hear it is now a movie. There was an "Ee, ba goom" man in that, and my young friend was almost frantic with joy. Not only did she keep saying "Ee, ba goom" as we left the theatre, but she kept saying it after we got into a restaurant. I have never been so sick of a girl in all my life. She is now one of the continent's most famous comedienne, with an unerring talent for timing a laugh just right. And she writes all her own stuff, and puts on a whole evening's show by herself. And she gets over two thousand dollars a night, and her gramophone records are best-sellers, and there is no reasonable limit to her career.

EACH time I see her on the stage I laugh heartily. In her chosen field of mirth she is extremely funny. Yet once in a while I am stupid enough to stop laughing, when I think of that "Ee, ba goom" evening, long ago, nearly thirty years ago. And I ask myself if she really has a sense of humor after all. . . . just because he kept yelling "Ee, ba goom" when she was a kid? This is morbid of me. This way madness lies. I might as well be critical of the Archbishop of Canterbury because he wouldn't eat his spinach when he was four years old.

YES, but I didn't mean to wander off into this reminiscence. I was about to say that while English radio audiences howl to hear Arthur Askey saying "Now, playmates," or "I Thank you," for the millionth time, American radio audiences are doing exactly the same thing in shrieking at Jack Benny's wig and fiddle and alleged cheese-paring. There is no difference.

In the matter of popular laughter, familiarity doesn't breed contempt. It breeds content. On both sides of the ocean. Any ocean.

SWEETS TO THE SWEET

I HAD to meet a man who was stepping off a plane from Hawaii. Like all the other passengers, he was wearing one of those necklaces of flowers. . . . an exit arranged by the stewardess. I forget what you call the garland. . . . or something like that. A woman who was also meeting this man said "Do let me smell them. How gorgeous. (Deep sniff.) Gosh, aren't they wonderful? Rich and heavy. They smell just like cheap shaving-soap. Say, you're not just back for the holidays from barbers' college, are you?" What a way to greet an honorary Polynesian!

As Our Readers See It

USURPING FUNCTIONS

R. B. Andersson has suggested that I had "some hidden reason" for criticizing the Loughheed petition that RCMP secret files be opened to the public so that suspected Communists may be "exposed" by the Press and anybody interested. I had not.

If I knew how many "Communist Fronts" there are in Victoria, or if I came into possession of information of that sort, my only proper course would be to give such information to the RCMP and thereafter to leave the matter to their responsibility. In the extremely unlikely event of my changing to feel that RCMP officers had not taken my information with sufficient seriousness it would be open to me to give my information also to the Minister at Ottawa; but beyond that I would have neither the duty nor the right to take action.

My understanding is that no private citizen has the right, much less the responsibility, to lay a charge of subversion or treason against any person or group—that is the field of the proper authorities of the Crown.

Not having the authority to lay a charge in which I could attempt to prove my contention in court, neither have I the right to assert or rumor subversion against any other person or group. Moreover my doing so outside a court or to officers of the Crown should and would expose me to action at court of law by the party so described, for libel, slander or criminal libel; and in that situation the burden of proof acceptable to court of law would be upon me to prove my assertions, and in no way upon the party bringing the action.

This, I understand, is the hazard of any private person thus attempting to usurp the function of the Crown in such matter and in any such manner.

FOR MEMORIES

Almost every month of the year one may read of gatherings of veterans of units and formations of the past and present Canadian forces to honor some event of regimental or formation history.

Such gatherings are invaluable in so far as they give to those veterans an opportunity to renew the type of good fellowship and friendship which only active service conditions can create.

They give these veterans a chance to discuss amongst themselves instagages and occasions which only they have experienced and can understand.

April 22nd next is the anniversary of the commencement of the second battle of Ypres 1915 and should be an occasion for gatherings throughout the Dominion of many veterans of units and formations exclusive to the original 1st Canadian Division of the Great War 1914-1918.

Amongst these will be the members of the local branch of the Red Chevron Club of Vancouver Island who will celebrate the event at a banquet to be held at Loughheed Banquet Hall, Douglas Street on Friday 7th, May next. One of the foremost speakers in the Pacific Northwest, a World War veteran, has accepted an invitation to address the members on this occasion.

The series of great German attacks around Ypres in the spring, 1915, had a single strategic objective and are rightly grouped under a common name.

Many people in Canada will remember the defense of the "Road to the Sea" in the story of six terrible days in April 1915 when units and formations comprising the 1st Canadian Division with a torn flank and choking under the deadly fumes of enemy gas stayed the onrush of immensely superior numbers at Langemarck, St. Julien and Gravenstafle.

The German attempt to reach Ypres from the north and northeast and advance on the Channel ports began on April 22nd and had spent its force by April 27th having failed completely in gaining its main object, the capture of the Channel ports.

It is doubtful whether any subsequent action by Canadian forces either in attack or defence demanded the importance of defeating enemy strategy as much as it did in the second battle of Ypres.

This was proved in the World War when the occupation of the same Channel ports by the enemy gave them the advantage of establishing air, ground and sea bases from which they were able to carry out their relentless attacks on Great Britain also upon our shipping and vital communications in the Atlantic, English Channel and the North Sea.

But for the successful defence of the 1st Canadian Division of St. Julien this could have been the case from the spring of 1915 until the end of the Great War.

The glory of thwarting it at that time belongs mainly to the courage, tenacity and endurance of units and formations of the 1st Canadian Division.

J. N. EDGAR, Lt. Col. (R)
Vice-Pres. Red Chevron Club of V.I.

WORTH FIGHTING FOR

Only a ripple has stirred public apathy to the loss of the unspoiled Sooke Park lakes.

If Victorians are so little interested in park preservation near home, what chance have defenders of Buttle Lake from preventing the desecration of Strathcona Park?

Are the lakes in public parks honestly and truly the preserve of rich men, which the agents of the B.C. Power Commission consistently claim?

Why have parks at all, so long as they may be exploited for industrial purposes? Nobody cares, except a few alleged screwballs, who feel that the beauty spots we still have are well worth fighting for.

DENIS H. BESLEY,

To Control the Bomb

BY WALTER LIPPMANN, From Washington

ONLY sheer unpreparedness can account for the United States diplomatic fumble of not having kept the British government fully informed about hydrogen bomb developments that were going to be published soon thereafter to the whole world. It cannot have been intentional, it must have been sheer maladministration.

It is also too obvious that the few disarmament talks, which are proposed for the United Nations, were an improvisation to soften the effects of the preceding fumbles. For there is no indication that the United States is any nearer than it was to having a considered policy to talk about in the Disarmament Commission.

What is the Soviet policy on atomic bombs? While the U.S.A. had the monopoly—that is to say until the summer of 1949—the U.S.S.R. had only one objective: to get the UN to outlaw the use, possession and manufacture of the atomic weapons which the United States alone possessed.

Nothing could have been simpler. The United States was to give up the best weapon it had. The U.S.S.R. was to give up the weapon it didn't have.

With this self-serving proposal the U.S.S.R. never made headway. The non-Communist world knew that the American monopoly of the bomb was what established a balance of power in view of the fact that the western nations had such weak ground armies.

But when the Soviet Union broke the American monopoly in 1949 a new phase began. The development took time to mature and even longer to become appreciated by the makers of high policy. By last summer when Malenkov, in his long and important speech, claimed that the U.S.S.R. had the hydrogen bomb, the new situation had matured and its enormous political consequences had begun to manifest themselves.

The supreme effect of the breaking of the monopoly has been predictable by logical analysis since the end of 1949. It is to make the nations without atomic weapons recognize that they have no military power of offense or defense in an atomic war.

This revolutionizes profoundly the pre-atomic conception of alliances; coalition warfare, containment, and collective security. When Mr. Plevin, the French Minister of Defense, said the other day that Paris could not live 300 feet underground, he was saying that France has no military answer to atomic weapons. But neither has Germany. And neither has Great Britain. And neither has Japan.

The Soviet government seems to have begun, to appreciate the new situation after Stalin's death. In any event Ma-lenkov's speech of Aug. 8, last summer, had strong indications of this.

The new position was no longer that atomic weapons must be outlawed and abolished entirely. Now that it also has atomic weapons, the Soviet Union proposes that their use should be outlawed except in retaliation against the use of atomic weapons. The Soviet phrase for retaliation was "a devastating rebuff."

This is the Soviet proposal to which, presumably, the United States will have to reply. We must not underestimate its plausibility and attraction in all the countries which feel that they would be vulnerable and helpless in an atomic war. They will not be willing to reject out of hand a proposal which has the look of being so promising a way of neutralizing atomic weapons.

SPARED RISK

For, if that could be done, they would be spared the risk of annihilation. Moreover, in a world system with atomic weapons neutralized, their own military power would be raised from virtually zero to something very considerable.

The objection to the Soviet proposal is that in fact it would, as respects the Eurasian continent, substantially disarm the United States and would make the U.S.S.R. paramount in military power. We cannot agree to that and the non-Communist nations in Asia and Europe will not wish us to agree to it if they understand it.

But they will not understand it if we have nothing to propose in place of the Soviet proposal, except the old chestnuts about inspection and the same old tough talk that the mimeograph machines in the State Department now turn out automatically and when nobody is looking.

We should propose to outlaw the use of atomic weapons except in retaliation, except to give "a devastating rebuff," against any—not merely against atomic—military aggression. We should invite the U.S.S.R. to join us in the U.N. in the working out of a code of law to define the criteria of aggression, direct and indirect, and to govern the procedure for determining it.

Personality is a thing that we, none of us, have anything to do with at all. We don't make personality. Personality is a thing which belongs to us, given us by God, or whatever you like to say. But you can't do anything about it.

—Dame Sybil Thorndike, the well-known actress.

MIS-EDUCATED?

I am afraid that well-educated women nowadays forget that they are destined for marriage and, come what may, it is marriage that must always have their first thoughts. The temptation to forget this is enormous—the further a woman goes in her chosen line, the less suitable she is to become someone's wife.

—David Dickinson.

A Crazy Set-Up

IT'S SPRING and I know it by the frogs down the valley, and the robins in the fir tree by the woodshed. And I should be happy and I'm not. I'm feeling cross, and mean and miserable, instead.

It all stems from a feeling of guilt. And the guilt is because I've just mailed back the Easter seals for crippled children. And I've mailed no money with them, either.

I know it's a mean and beastly thing to do. But the financial limit has been reached.

Not so long ago, I went marching with other mothers to help in the fight against polio. I was still catching my breath from that one, when the Red Cross canvasser came to the door. And now it's crippled children. Next month we'll be conquering cancer. Later in the year, we'll be asked to help the blind, buy poppies for Armistice Day and tick-tuberculosis via Christmas seals. There will be the Salvation Army bellringers patiently ringing all over town, and most of us will be sticking Red Feathers in our windows.

Maybe I've left out some of the appeals. But those are the ones that came to my mind in a flash. There are too many of them, and the whole set-up is silly. It makes me miserable because I know I am only one of thousands of Canadians who feel the same.

We're a friendly, generous nation. As a whole, we like to give, and our hearts are easily touched by tales of pain, poverty and sorrow. But we can't give all the time. As things are, we can't even plan our giving because we never know when another independent cause is going to come pleading for our money.

This perpetual begging's got out of hand. It's got to stop somewhere and get itself on a sensible basis. And so far as I'm concerned, the place and the time for it to stop are here and now.

Mind you, all these causes have my sympathy. I'm usually a soft touch for any call upon my purse. But I think that there are a number of things that the promoters of these drives have failed to take into account. And the first of these is the waste involved in all these separate sets of postage and publicity—not to mention the other items in the overhead. A truly united appeal would eliminate much of this right at the start.

And I haven't much sympathy for those organizations that claim they are putting on national drives and therefore cannot join in local united appeals. I'll bet if they discovered that a separate drive netted them nothing because the public was fed up, they'd join the united appeal so fast it would be funny.

And I haven't ANY sympathy for organizations that claim they wouldn't get as much from a united appeal as they do from separate drives. They're forgetting us—the people who pay. They're forgetting, too, the people helped by other causes that may not pack such an emotional wallop.

Take polio, for instance. Even a Grade One child could dramatize polio with pictures of mothers in iron lungs, and crippled fathers unable to support their young and adorable families.

The drive for crippled children is dramatic, too. It's bound to be. We're kid-crazy in this continent, and a picture of a youngster with wizened legs in braces sends us fumbling for our pocketbooks.

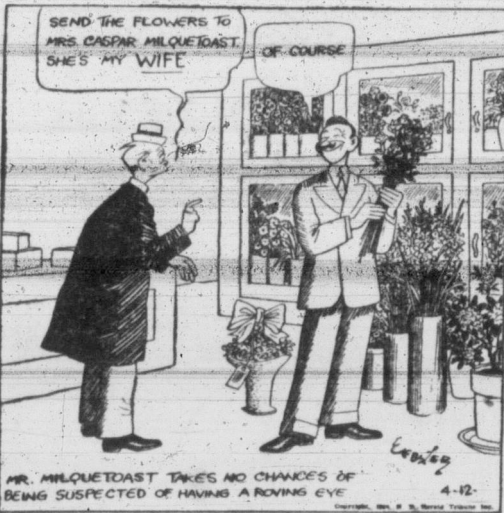

Canadians are a decent people, and its natural that we should be moved by these things. But what about the old and ailing? They don't look so pretty in a picture. Yet their need is just as great.

And what about cancer? You can't photograph the terrible internal rot or the hours and days of secret dread spent wondering which organs the disease will attack next, or how long it will be before some bright spirit is snuffed out and a useful life cut short.

No, the set-up as it stands is crazy and unfair. And those of us who are conscientious, and who do believe in being our brothers' keepers, are hounded into a state of despair and gloom.

If the set-up isn't changed soon, we shall also be hounded into a state of bankruptcy. Or else we'll quietly and miserably go out on strike!

Failure to Pay for Paper May Send Man Back to U.K.

DETROIT (AP)—Samuel Jones, a 72-year-old Detroit pensioner, faces possible deportation to his native England because he forgot to pay for a newspaper more than 30 years ago.

Jones was born in Oldbury, Worcestershire, Eng. He migrated to Canada in 1910 and came to the United States in 1922.

The newspaper incident occurred soon after his arrival in Detroit.

He said that while running for a streetcar he failed to drop any pennies in the coin box. Arrested, Jones was convicted of simple larceny and fined $15.

NANAIMO—A 155-foot flag pole was erected in front of the court house here by A. E. Moseley, Victoria, 703-4 Bank of Toronto Bldg. The grounds of the Courtenay court house.

Later, Jones made a two-week visit to Canada. Under immigration regulations, any alien who leaves the U.S. is considered a new entrant when he returns. In applying for re-entry Jones neglected to tell immigration officials about his conviction.

The concealment of the conviction was a violation of immigration laws and Jones now faces possible deportation.

He is now serving a six-months sentence on another charge of breaking and entering, having been arrested by mainland police last February.

DUNCAN—A fall of rock in the pit quarry at Bamberton Friday struck Donald Field, rock driller, and broke his left leg and left arm. He is recovering in King's Daughters' Hospital.

NANAIMO—New officers of the Junior Fish and Game Club are Keith Winters, president; Bob Riddell, vice-president; and Roy Erickson, secretary-treasurer.

An indoor rifle range is under construction and Barry Swan, Hugh LeCren, W. Spowart and A. Wilson soon will be teaching the 25 young members marksmanship and use of fire arms.

HONORS NURSE—Mount Edith Cavell in Alberta, named after the British nurse shot by the Germans in the First World War, towers 11,000 feet.

The silver iodide would be dissolved in acetone and vaporized in a small general-purpose furnace operating at 2,500 degrees Fahrenheit; this would send 1,000,000,000,000 of silver iodide crystals a minute into ascending air currents.

Island Digest

CAMPBELL RIVER—Thomas Whitman, 64, of Vancouver, was killed Saturday at 9 a.m. at the Emerald Logging Co. camp, Kelsey Bay, when struck by a falling tree. He had been at the camp since March 24. An inquest will be held.

NANAIMO—Soap box derby committee here has decided to race the May 24 coaster derby on Fitzwilliam Street instead of Commercial Street, as had been originally planned.

The latter, although the city's main business street, was considered too slow for the race. N. M. Stilling is committee chairman.

LANGFORD—Civil defense lecture series on establishment of a welfare centre closed with an exercise showing the function of such a centre in action.

Observers included R. H. Abbott, Victoria, chief instructor; Harry Harris, district controller; Bert Cole, View Royal section leader, and Reg Freemantle, Langford.

NANAIMO—John Gordon Randa, 19, convicted in county court Friday by Judge L. A. Hanna on a charge of breaking and entering the Mount View Garage, Quarterway, Feb. 7, was due for sentence today.

He is now serving a six-

'Cloud-Seeding' Plan to Boost Prairie Rain

SASKATOON (CP)—At least 2,500 anxious farmers have subscribed $5 a quarter-section each for a new "cloud-seeding" scheme to increase rainfall on 2,000,000 acres in the Saskatoon district.

Clouds accompanying storm systems would be bombarded with silver iodide crystals, each capable of attracting moisture and becoming a potential rain-droplet.

The program, to be carried out by the Water Resources Development Corporation, Denver, Colo., has been endorsed by Dr. B. W. Currie, head of the University of Saskatchewan's physics department.

The silver iodide would be dissolved in acetone and vaporized in a small general-purpose furnace operating at 2,500 degrees Fahrenheit; this would send 1,000,000,000,000 of silver iodide crystals a minute into ascending air currents.

Mental Illness Rate Up

Dr. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Emeritus Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation.

To some doctors it seems sad that so much of the money that is spent today for research on the treatment of disease is spent for the study of a few rare diseases that have happened to catch the interest of our people.

Some of these diseases are so rare that the average physician does not see a case in five or ten years. Naturally, doctors are happy that efforts are being made to help these lonely sufferers; the idea is not that these people be neglected, but rather that more effort be made now to cure diseases that affect hundreds of thousands of people.

Few persons realize what the commonest disease is. It is mental disease. Today, more draftees are rejected for this than for any other disease. In Great Britain, 43 per cent of the hospital beds are now occupied by persons suffering from mental ill health, and in this country the fraction is nearer 50 per cent. Even then, many more beds are needed for these patients. Some asylums are so overcrowded and understaffed that the discouraged doctors haven't much time or energy left for any research or even for treatment of the insanity. They can only keep their patients fed and well cared for.

Fortunately, the American Foundation for Mental Health (1790 Broadway, New York City) is now planning a big drive for funds for research on psychoses.

TECHNICAL NAMES FOR DISEASE

The other day a patient came in with a painful and disturbing wry neck. She said she had seen several neurologists who had all told her she had a spasmodic torticollis. She had an idea that now, with the diagnosis made, treatment ought to be easier. But I had to point out that often, when we doctors see a disease which we do not understand, we just give it a Latin or a Greek name, which is nothing more than a translation of the English name! In this woman's case, "torticollis" means in Latin just "a twisted neck," and the translation hasn't added a particle to our understanding of why the poor lady has constantly to hold her chin to keep it from moving to one side.

I remember once being amused when a woman came in proudly with a written diagnosis given her by an eminent consultant in London. She had gone to him complaining that with her migraine she had days of mild depression. The wonderful diagnosis she received of "hebephrenia hemispherica transitoria," for which she had paid $25, meant in a Latin a "transitory depression of the mind, associated with a headache on one half of the cranium!"

Our word migraine is just a corruption of "hemispheria," which means one side of the head. In order to help the woman I had to find out why she had her sick headaches and her depression. Actually, her troubles were all due to her alcoholic husband, whose misdeeds made her angry and wore her down.

Those persons who love complicated and high-sounding diagnoses would enjoy thumbing through the recently published Encyclopedia of Aberrations, edited by Dr. Edward Podolsky. In it he points out such things as that abasia is the loss of the power to walk; abrosia is the refusal to eat; abulia is a loss of will power; acathisia is an inability to sit down; aeschrolatia is a tendency to use filthy speech; and anamastasia is a reluctance to sit up. Brontophobia is the fear of thunder; gammacism is a love of baby talk; hypophonia is a tendency to whisper; kakorthaphiophobia is an exaggerated fear of failure! Oosphresiolagnia is the delusion that everything smells bad, and triakadekaphobia is that fear of the number 13 which so many of us have.

CORTISONE FOR SHINGLES

In a recent paper in the Journal of the American Medical Association, Dr. Maxwell L. Gelfand reported splendid relief of pain in four out of five elderly persons treated with cortisone.

The doctor agreed with other physicians who have reported their inability to help elderly persons get over the severe neuralgia which commonly follows shingles in the aged.

I just saw a graph showing the remarkable lessening of mortality from acute appendicitis in the last 20 years. The mortality rate per 100,000 policy holders of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company in 1935 was 11.3. In 1953, it was 1.3.

Any child who keeps his mother awake all night with an abdominal pain, perhaps associated with nausea and much prostration, should usually be operated on quickly.

Kidnap Suspect Claims Victim Hatched Scheme

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Harold Jackson, one of two men accused of kidnapping Leonard Moskowitz, claimed Friday that the kidnap scheme was hatched by Moskowitz himself.

Jackson, alleged master planner of the kidnapping, told a superior court jury that Moskowitz, a real estate dealer, originated the scheme to get $500,000 from his father, Maurice Moskowitz.

Jackson testified that young Moskowitz outlined the project to him as they sat together in Moskowitz' automobile in San Francisco last October.

No Battle of the Bulge Here

Weather permitting, Don Pries' 1954 Victoria-Tyees will open spring training at Athletic Park Wednesday in preparation for their Western International League season. And with all the many problems facing Pries in his freshman managerial career, one thing he won't have to worry about is the physical condition of the first two players to check into camp. Showing the boss that they have been avoiding the starches this winter are rookie outfielder Tommy Keough (left), and popular Milt Martin (right), who has just come back from Portland Beavers' training camp. (Times Photo.)

HE'LL GIVE '100 PER CENT'

Yanks Get Slaughter

NEW YORK (AP)—Enos Slaughter, the old warhorse of the St. Louis Cardinals, has joined the New York Yankees, and if history repeats itself, he will be just the insurance Casey Stengel needs to wrap up his sixth straight American League pennant.

The 38-year-old veteran of 16 years with the Redbirds was dealt to the Yankees Sunday—less than 48 hours before the opening of the season—for pitcher Mel Wright and three unnamed players who will be assigned to Card farm clubs.

Five times before the Yanks have reached into the National League for players other clubs thought were washed up, and almost every time the deal turned out to the advantage of the world champions.

They obtained Johnny Mize from New York Giants, Johnny Hopp from Pittsburgh, Johnny Sain from Boston Braves, Ewell Blackwell from Cincinnati and Johnny Schmitz from Brooklyn.

So with Mickey Mantle's bad leg still a question mark, and the Yanks floundering along under their worst spring training record since Stengel took over, Slaughter could be just the shot in the arm they need.

For his part, Slaughter who compiled a lifetime batting average of .305, was unhappy over the deal—and wept when he was told of the trade.

"This is the biggest shock of my life," he said, tears streaming down his face,

"something I never expected to happen. I've given my life to this organization and they let you go when they think you're getting old."

"What gets me is that they let you go before you're finished. I've still got some good years of baseball left in me. I'll give Casey Stengel 100 per cent just as I've given every ball club I've ever played for."

August A. Busch, Card president, explained that Slaughter was traded because of the team's youth movement.

"The Cardinals are trying to build a young ball club," he said. "We are looking for an organization that will give us strong teams and perhaps winners for years to come and we must look to the future. Although he won't be with us, Enos will always be a Cardinal."

COAST LEAGUE PLAYERS DOMINATE SIDE TO MEET GLASGOW

City All-Star Soccer Team Named

Victoria's all-star soccer team to meet Glasgow Rangers at Athletic Park May 26, has been chosen.

And, as expected, the selectors have gone to the Coast Soccer League for the nucleus of the squad which will carry the Island's banner against the famous Scottish club.

No less than 11 Coast League players have been picked in the list of 22 players released today by team officials.

Nine members of Victoria United have been named along with halfback John Pickburn of New Westminster Royals and goalie Joe Travis of North Shore United.

Both Travis and Pickburn have previously played against Old Country soccer clubs. Travis, in particular, was a standout three years ago when the Victoria team stunned the soccer world by defeating Fulham, then of the English League first division, 1-0.

United players chosen are coach Wally Milligan, Tim Walker, Bill Hopp, Joe Robbins, Harry Carruthers, Ab Travis (who scored the goal against Fulham), Jack Robins, Herman Henry and George Wright.

Wood Motors of the Victoria and District League placed four men on the select side. They are Gary Crowe, Ernie Eastlake, John Weldon and John Moss.

Three players named from Civil Service are Harold Holroyd, Ron Woolcock and Bill Bamford.

Esquimalt and Heaneys

each placed two men on the squad which will be managed by Bob Davidson of Wood Motors and coached by Tom Smith of Heaneys.

Picked from Esquimalt are Ken Barnes and Jack Blevins and from Heaneys, Stan Wiseman and Frank Grealey.

No players were named from Victoria West or Canadian Scottish, other two member clubs of the V and D League.

The all-star selection was made by the committee in charge of the Victoria-Glasgow match and all-star manager Bob Davidson. Members of the committee include Pat Mulcahy, chairman; Sam Smith, secretary; Charlie Lewis, V and D League president; Don Gray, V and D League secretary-treasurer; and George Eade, manager of Victoria United.

The allstars will hold workouts under the floodlights at Windsor Park Tuesday and Thursday nights of this week at 7 p.m.

Snead, Hogan In Tie

Playoff Necessary In Masters' Golf

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Ben Hogan and Sam Snead, called the "two greatest golfers in the world" by the grand-slam king, Bobby Jones, met today in an 18-hole playoff for the 1954 Masters' championship.

The little man from Texas and the long-ball hitter from West Virginia tied with 289 totals Sunday after the regulation 72 holes. That is one over par for the exacting 6,800-yard Augusta National course and the highest score ever to earn first place in this major tournament's 20-year history.

The winner will join Jimmy Demaret as a three-time Masters' champion. And a victory for Hogan would make him the only man ever to win two Masters in succession.

BILLY JOE CLOSURE

Although neither could break par in the final round—Snead had a 72 and Hogan a 75—the wind-up was perhaps the most exciting in Masters' history. Adding an extra touch of drama was the spectacular comeback after a poor third round by Billy Joe Patton, the happy-go-lucky South Carolina amateur.

Patton finished with a 71 for a 290 total. Dutch Harrison, with a 68, and Lloyd Mangrum with a 69, tied for fourth.

It looked for a while as if Patton would power his way to victory with his bold, shoot-for-the-pin brand of golf. But he could be credited with forcing the playoff.

HOLE IN ONE

A hole-in-one had helped him to a four-under-par 32 on the front nine while Hogan was taking a 37.

Ben had started out with a three-point stroke margin over Snead and a five-stroke margin over Billy Joe. With Snead sticking to par, Hogan thought Patton was the man he had to beat as he went off the 11th hole. He didn't know that Billy Joe had taken a disastrous seven and lost two strokes at No. 13 when his second shot landed in a creek.

"I made my mistake on the 11th," Ben said afterwards. "I thought Patton was the one to play for. So I tried to hook a three-iron shot onto the green, but it landed in the water and I took a double-bogey."

"If I'd known he'd shot that seven I'd have played it safe."

Scots Rally, Tie Firemen

VANCOUVER—John Swann scored a hat trick Saturday as St. Andrews came from behind to tie Firefighters 4-4 in a Coast Soccer League game here.

Two of Swann's goals came in the final minutes on crosses from Bill Logan. Firefighters led 2-1 at the half on goals by Art Hughes and Frank Ambler.

Swann scored for the Scots. Other goals were scored by Ron Williams for St. Andrews and Hughes and Alec McKay for Firemen.

Victory Smiles Exchanged

Victoria golfers took major awards in the 24th annual Empress Golf Tournament, which concluded at Colwood Golf Club Saturday. Mrs. H. G. Mearns, left, won the ladies' championship and Sir Edward Beatty Trophy. George Goodwin, right, captured men's honors and also the Sir Edward Beatty Trophy.

Mrs. Mearns, Goodwin Take Empress Titles

It was a 3-1 shot that the Empress Golf championship would come to Victoria when play started in the championships at Colwood Golf Club Saturday and, despite a valiant battle, the lone outsider couldn't defy those odds.

Mrs. Gordon Greene of Seattle lost her bid for a second successive title when she bowed to Mrs. H. G. Mearns of Victoria Club, 2 and 1.

The men's title and the Sir Edward Beatty Trophy went to George Goodwin, of Colwood, who defeated his clubmate, Gordon Greenwood, 1 up.

Mrs. Mearns was forced to win the ladies' Sir Edward Beatty Trophy the hard way. One down at the ninth, Mrs. Mearns bided her time until the 15th. Then she won three straight holes to end the match on the 17th green.

Greenwood, too, was taken from behind in a see-saw match in which never more than one hole separated the two finalists. He held a one-hole lead at the turn and it was nip and tuck until the 18th, where Goodwin dunked a 12-inch putt for the title.

VETERAN ROOKIE

Goodwin's victory is the more amazing when it is considered that he didn't start playing golf until 12 years ago. He is 67 and played to a 22 handicap against Greenwood's 11.

Mrs. Mearns was forced to give seven strokes to Mrs. Green, who was competing in the finals for the third straight year. It was also the second straight year that the men's championship had come to Colwood. Bill McCool won the title in 1953, defeating Vic Painter, also of Colwood, in the final.

City Paddle Stars Capture B.C. Titles

Victoria stars captured all senior singles titles in the annual B.C. table tennis championship, which concluded at Victoria Lawn Tennis and Badminton Club Saturday night.

Nancy Craig added to a long list of honors when she took her sixth provincial women's singles title with an upset victory over former Swedish champion and current Seattle and Western Oregon open titleholder Erickson, winning 21-17, 18-21, 21-13, 9-21, 21-19.

Art Ngai won the men's singles with a 47-21, 21-17, 21-19 victory over Victoria's Gordon Chan, who had previously ousted Pacific Northwest champion Carl Cole of Portland in the semi.

Wayne Chew downed Dave Lowe in five games in all-Victoria A singles final to annex the title, while Victoria's Laurie Greenwood defeated Alf Holmwood, also of Victoria, in straight games to capture the veterans' singles crown.

Victoria's Gerry Addy defeated Ed Ngai in the consolation final.

Lowe teamed with Charlie Ngai to take the A doubles event with a victory over Ray Dawson and Chew.

Miss Erickson paired with Bob Hage of Portland to down Mrs. Craig and Art Ngai, 21-13, 20-22, 21-14, 21-13, in the mixed doubles final.

Vancouver's Fred Ward and Sam Houston came through with a straight game victory over Cole and Derek Glazer of Winnipeg to capture the men's

Vic Painter Takes Medal

A word to the wise:

The youngsters are in for a rough time in the Vancouver Island match play open golf championships if Sunday's qualifying round is any criterion.

Veterans held the upper hand in the 18-hole medal test at Uplands Golf Club and it was Vic Painter of Colwood who topped the field.

Painter fired a one-over par 71 to take medalist honors. He was followed by Bill McColl of Colwood and defending champion Bob Morrison of Uplands. McColl and Morrison each had 37-35-72.

In fourth place were others of the old guard. Eric Hiberson took a 73, as did Frank Scroggs. George Andrews shot a 74. George Bigelow had a 75, the same as Hugh Morrison.

FLEMING HAS 79

Favored Bob Fleming, the current B.C. amateur champion had five three-putt greens and they almost cost him elimination. Fleming soared to a 79, just one stroke better than needed to gain a qualifying berth in the 32. It took a score of 80 or better to gain the championship session.

Painter was out in 37 and home in 34. Hiberson added the early lead as he teared the first nine in 34, but he slipped coming home to a 37. Paul Phillips also had a 34 on the first nine, but he too stumbled coming home and took a 44 for a 78.

PROS HAVE TROUBLE

The professionals also had their troubles, but all but assistant Bill Milne of Colwood, qualified. Milne took an 81.

Bill Court of Colwood shot a 76, Joe Pryke of Gorge Vale a 77, and Laurie Carroll, assistant at Victoria Club, a 79.

Eddie Majek took low net honors with a 75-72-63. It was the best score ever registered by Majek and a tremendous contrast to his 94 in last week's Empress tournament at Colwood.

Runner-up to low net was W. Allen with a score of $2-16-66.

Match play begins next Sunday at Victoria Club with the low 32 gross scores in the championship division and the 32 low net qualifiers, excluding those in the championship division, playing in the consolation event.

JBAA Ruggers Lift Inter-City Awards

Two James Bay clubs scored victories in annual competition against Vancouver Rowing Club in the mainland city and Victoria College failed in its bid for the B.C. third division title in rugby action Saturday.

JBAA's first division team defeated Rowing Club, 13-11, to retain the A. H. Cox Trophy and the Bay's second team came through with a 3-0 victory over Rowing Club's seconds to successfully defend the Jack Ferguson Memorial Trophy, which they won last year.

Victoria College, undefeated in eight games in city league play, dropped a 6-3 verdict to Vancouver Ex-Tech in a hard-fought game at Windsor Park. Peter McMullan scored Victoria's only try.

Frank Gower scored two tries

HARRISON WALLS MEET IN REMATCH TONIGHT

TORONTO (CP) — Tommy Harrison of Los Angeles, the 2-1 underdog who took a 10-round decision from Earl Walls of Toronto here Jan. 27, meets the Canadian heavyweight champion in a 10-round rematch tonight.

The bout is equally important to both. They are trying to climb the ladder of the ring ratings leading to a shot at Rocky Marciano's heavyweight crown. Harrison's victory in the first fight here hoisted him from eighth to sixth and shunted Walls from fifth to seventh.

Major Leagues Open Tuesday

NEW YORK (AP) — Were the major league baseball races decided last March when Boston's Ted Williams fractured his collarbone and Milwaukee's Bobby Thomson broke his ankle?

Can the Red Sox overcome the early absence of Williams, their star slugger, and put an end to New York Yankees' long reign in the American League? Can Cleveland finally do it after finishing second to the Yankees for three straight seasons? How about Chicago?

Can the Braves continue their momentum and overtake Brooklyn Dodgers despite the loss of Thomson, their hard-hitting outfielder, for at least another month?

How much will Enos Slaughter help the Yankees? And what about Baltimore, which returns to the majors after 51 years?

All these answers will begin to take shape Tuesday when the major league season gets under way in eight cities, with President Eisenhower throwing out the first ball in Washington. Approximately 200,000 fans are expected to attend the openers. For the first time in years all openers will take place the same day, and all games will be played in daylight.

The opening schedule, starting times and estimated attendance:

Brooklyn at New York, 1:30 p.m., 35,000.

Blue Butterfly Scores Narrow Win

SAN MATEO, Calif. (AP) — Blue Butterfly, owned by the Alberta Ranches of Calgary, scored a nose victory over Calumet Farm's Bubbly in the $22,250 — San Mateo — Matron Handicap at Bay Meadows race track Saturday.

Blue Butterfly, ridden by Johnny Longden, took command from Fighting Jane a sixteenth of a mile from home and then stalled off Bubbly.

United Gains Cup Semis

Victoria U. 4, Dominion H. 0.

Victoria United Saturday afternoon backed rookie goalie Pete Winter's shutout with a flurry of second-half goals to defeat Vancouver Dominion Hotel 4-0, and advance into the semifinals of the Province Cup.

Winter, making his first appearance in the nets for United after taking over for Bill McAllister who has left town to join the RCAF, was not over-worked by the outclassed Vancouver team but he still showed enough skill to indicate that United may have found a perfectly capable replacement for McAllister.

ST. ANDREWS COMING

United now enters the semifinal against the winner of Vancouver Firefighters-North Shore, who have yet to play their quarter-final match.

United takes on the winner April 24 and will warm up for the game when they meet St. Andrews next Saturday in a regular soccer league match.

United started Saturday's game with a rush and it was soon apparent that Dominion Hotel, a Vancouver and District Football Association team, was not up to the Victoria club's class.

United pinned the visitors in their own end in the first 45 minutes but lack of a sustained attack cost them many scoring opportunities.

Wally Milligan combined brilliantly with Cedric Robb for United's only goal of the first half. Robb, near the 14-minute mark, found Milligan with a long goal-mouth pass and Milligan trapped the ball and hustled it past Vancouver goalkeeper Tom Johnston.

There was no further scoring in the first half although Winter deprived Vancouver of a goal when he came out to slap aside a breakaway shot by Dominion Hotel's Bobbie Ward.

Jim Turner replaced George Wright at inside at half-time and paid quick dividends on the switch, converting another smart Robb pass for the second goal.

Fullback Bill Hope worked the ball up-field and passed to Bill McMillan, who scored United's third goal and Robb capped a brilliant afternoon when he headed in opposite wing Ab Travis' pass to wind up the scoring in the final minutes of the game.

Referee Les Isaacson had his work cut out for him as both clubs were guilty of rough play. Isaacson called 12 fouls against the visitors and 11 against United.

Dockers Win Seattle Meet

Teams from Esquimalt of the Victoria and District Football Association swept two of the first three places in an international five-man soccer tournament in Seattle over the week-end.

The Esquimalt A team took first place in the tournament by defeating Vancouver Marpole in the final. Esquimalt B team lost to Firefighters in the semifinal and finished in third place.

The championship A team was composed of Whitey Wakeley, Jack Blevins, Alex Stewart, Ed Young and Ken Barnes.

A total of 18 teams took part in the tournament, two from Victoria, four from Vancouver and the rest from the northwest United States.

Servants Edge Scots To Take McGavin Cup

Civil Service 1, Canadian Scottish 0
By TONY BRISTOWE

At long last, after innumerable postponements, the final of the McGavin Cup was played Sunday, with Civil Service defeating Canadian Scottish, 1-0.

HALL BRILLIANT

Perhaps the delay was no bad thing either, for as a result of the season enjoyed the April sunshine and the fast turf of Macdonald Park.

This was a hard, robust game, played at a fine pace all the way, which at times produced some really good football. Indeed the first half hour contained as much excitement as several ordinary games.

Scottish started off uphill at a cracking pace and after three minutes came close to scoring as "Doc" Heyward hit a hard low shot straight at goalie Archie McMillan's legs from close in.

Civil Service were slow to settle down, but before long Doug Day in goal for Scottish was severely tested by a shot from Ian Holroyd. Back to the other end and three blazing drives at goal from Kurt Lampert (twice) and Heyward.

This seemed to sting Civil Service to life for they put on a lot of pressure and after 30 minutes a long through pass found Jack McIntyre clear in the centre. He ran the ball forward and hit a hard shot past the helpless Day for the only goal of the match.

A few minutes later Servants had a chance to make it two up. The ball was lobbed over Day's head, but bounced out from the sidepost. After a desperate goal-mouth scramble, the ball went to Jack Thompson, who blazed a shot over the bar.

With five minutes to go, Scottish staged a great rally, and headed by Rookie Wright and Jim Caldwell kept McMillan at full stretch. However, they could not quite score, and Servants' one-goal lead was enough.

For the winners, Clark, Harold Holroyd and Bill Bamford were outstanding; Rookie Wright worked like a slave for Scottish, and Bill Johnson played some beautiful football in the first half. The Scottish weakness in midfield, where inside forwards and half backs left some big holes, was the measure of difference between the two teams. And on the day's form, Civil Service won by about the right margin.

Association vice president Dave Shaw presented the cup, and a season's record collection of 70 was taken in aid of the Injured Players Fund.

Stampeders won the opening two games in their own arena. The fourth game will go tonight in Edmonton.

Playing coach Bud Poole and Jimmy Anderson each scored twice for Flyers and Don Poole notched the other. Archie Scott and Ray Witluk tallied for Calgary.

New Leaders In ABC Doubles

SEATTLE (AP) — It is getting tougher to beat the leaders as scores mount in the American Bowling Congress competition and only a few new names were in the "top 100" today as the big 51st annual meet started its fourth week.

Two of the names led all the rest in their division, however. They were Don McLaren and Bill Welu, who worked the pins over so well in a doubles combination that they concluded their series with a 1,335 total that put them nine points ahead of the previous leaders.

The best overall performance of the day was turned in by Victoria Herrman of Buffalo who captured second place in the all-events division with a 1,947 count.

Tri-Bells Take Lead In Men's Cage Final

Ray Monot, six-foot-six centre, scored 22 points to lead the Toronto attack. Guard Peter Potter tallied 16, captain Fred Thomas 15, and Bill Munger 13.

High man for Winnipeg was forward Carl Ridd with 22 points. First-line forwards Herb Gladston and Doug Greenham got 17 apiece.

UN Expert Encouraged By World Outlook

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The head of the International Monetary Fund said today that the world should not expect a general economic depression this year, though some countries might suffer.

Ivor Roeth, chairman of the board and managing director of the fund, gave this view to the United Nations economic and social council in presenting the fund's 1953 report.

"The recent tendency for U.S. imports to decline has been caused by a reduction of general activity in the United States since the middle of last summer," he said.

While shying away from a hard forecast, he stressed the importance of the intention expressed by the U.S. government to act rapidly and decisively to the situation tend, to deteriorate further."

The fund, a UN specialized agency, sells governments gold and foreign money to help them to carry on international trade.

HIGHEST ON RECORD

Total sales value, $309,443,029, was highest on record and showed an increase of more than $41,000,000 over 1952. Canadian sales were $287,469,995.

Sales of Ford's English vehicles in Canada were up to more than 5,000 in 1953 from a little more than 1,000 in 1952.

Combined net profit after taxes of Ford's overseas companies was a record $12,081,772, compared with $8,683,843 in the previous year. This was attributed to cost reductions, increased sales of more profitable units and a reduction of Australian income taxes from 45 to 35 per cent retroactive to 1952.

"The sterling area as a whole improved its trading and exchange position substantially during the year," the report said, but "the objective of freely convertible sterling does not appear in near-term prospect."

"Progress toward free trade relationships, too, is slow, as there has been little or no reduction in the long-standing import restrictions and exchange controls on trade with the dollar area which impose an effective barrier to any expansion of trade between Canada and other members of the 'Commonwealth,'" it added.

Home-Improvers Chief Users Of Bank's Personal Loans

By the Canadian Press
A Canadian banker says the figures on small loans made by his bank show that more were floated last year to finance house furnishings and improvements than for any other purpose.

N. J. McKinnon, general manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, gave an indication of the borrowing habits and types of borrowers when he was called before the Commons banking committee in Ottawa.

Mr. McKinnon's brief, covering the bank's 18 years' experience in the field of small personal loans, showed these things:

Loans for house furnishings and improvements in the year ended Oct. 31 totaled $15,145, or 26.7 per cent of the $56,745 loans made. In value, they represented $6,702,350, or 22.9 per cent of the $29,200,969 in loans.

Second in number were the 7,782 loans, 13.7 per cent of the total, made to finance automobiles. They were valued at $6,029,848, or about one-fifth of the total value of loans.

Another big item was the 6,065 loans, 10.7 per cent, valued at $1,542,933 to finance medical, dental and hospital bills.

Since it entered the small loans field in June, 1935, the bank has made 933,840 loans, worth $248,461,909. In that period 18.6 per cent have been for house furnishings and improvements, 18.7 per cent for dental and hospital bills.

Ford Output Up 50%, One-Third More Profit

Ford of Canada Golden Jubilee Year Produces Highest Sales on Record

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—A 50-per-cent increase in passenger car production highlighted Ford of Canada operations for 1953, it was revealed in the firm's annual report issued today. Net profit was up 30 per cent.

The company showed a net profit after taxes of $20,029,513, equal to $12.07 a share, compared to a 1952 net profit of $15,342,920, equal to $9.25 a share.

The report said sales of Ford products in Canada were up 26 per cent.

The 28-page document marked the golden jubilee of the company, started in the Walkerville-Wagon Works in 1904. It included a special historical section.

The company produced more than 155,000 vehicles in 1953, an increase of more than 23,000 over the previous peak in 1952. Passenger car production was 124,185.

CHARRED AIR LETTERS GRIM SALVAGE OF WRECK

Mail salvaged from the TCA North Star crash near Moose Jaw last Thursday arrived here over the week-end. Charred envelopes were grim reminders of Canada's worst airline disaster in which 37 people died.

Some of the delayed mail was forwarded in new envelopes with a mimeographed note from postal authorities explaining the delay.

Other items not requiring new envelopes, bore a stamp: "Salvaged from TCA wreck."

Condemned Criminal's Book 'Remarkable'

Caryl Chessman Will Be Dead by Time
Most People Read Literary Effort

By ROBERT ZIMMERMAN, United Press Correspondent
NEW YORK (UP)—His execution will deter no one, it will gain society nothing, it will prove nothing, it will simply mean that he will be dead and that, in his case, the problem he typifies has been evaded.

Those words refer to an habitual criminal who will die next month in the San Quentin gas chamber.

They were written by the condemned man himself.

The criminal, Caryl Chessman, 32, wrote a book behind bars in death row. By the time most people read it, he will be dead.

The New York publishing firm of Prentice-Hall originally planned to publish the book in July but moved the date up to May 3. Proofs of the book were distributed to the press last week.

Chessman, styled a "criminal genius" because of his literary ability and legal talent, tried for six years to escape the death penalty with legal manoeuvres. He failed. He now is scheduled to die May 14. He insists his book is not an attempt to get last-ditch clemency.

ONE PURPOSE ONLY

"The book has been written for one purpose only—because its author is both haunted and angered by the knowledge that his society needlessly persists in confounding itself in dealing with the monstrous twin problems of what to do about crime and what to do with criminals," Chessman says in a fore word.

Dr. Harry Elmer Barnes, a New York sociologist who read a prepublication copy of the book, described it as "the most remarkable portrait of a criminal career and personality ever produced."

"Nothing comparable to it has ever before appeared in print," Barnes said.

Chessman describes how he developed asthma as a small boy and became isolated from his more robust playmates. He says he experienced a desire for rebellion which found its outlet in crime.

"The young are eager and alive... They hunger emo-

Romania Releases Gorgescue Boys, Held as Hostages

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. state department said today Romania has released two young Gorgescue boys, once held as hostages in an effort to force their father to spy for the Communists.

The boys, Constantin, 20, and Peter, 14, have been flown to West Germany and have been reunited with their father in Munich.

Their father is Valeriu Gorgescue, a naturalized American of Roman descent who lives in New York.

He charged last May that a member of the Romanian legation in Washington offered to help release the sons if he would spy for the Communists.

Gorgescue, former manager of Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey properties in Romania, rejected the deal.

Booming Geraldton Staggers Under Wave of Hitchhikers

GERALDTON, Ont. (BUP)—Provincial police and members of parliament were called on today to help stem a flood of hitchhikers into this mining boom town. Clergymen complained they were bunking in the pews and turning rectories into pawnshops.

Residents said a steady stream of transients had been pouring into town by rail and highways ever since rich base metal deposits were discovered in the bush nearby.

"We have let it be known that this is not a soft touch town," Stewart Brydges, president of the Chamber of Commerce, said. Civic leaders said the new arrivals were interested in a handout and a place to sleep, and were not interested in work.

"As many as 15 destitute men knock at my door every day," the Rev. G. Lamprom, Roman Catholic priest, told a town meeting Saturday night called to discuss the problem. "They are all from out of town and show no desire to work."

The Rev. T. Grey of the Anglican Church and the Rev. William Macdorm, Presbyterian, said police brought whole families to them to bunk in the pews.

"They're trying to turn my rectory into a pawnshop," the Rev. Robert Rock, a Lutheran, complained. "They leave cameras, flashlights and tools—none of which are of any use to me."

The meeting decided to ask for help from provincial police and welfare officials and inform federal and provincial members of parliament of the problem.

NO HANDICAP

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (CP)—Matthew Penman, 60, lost both hands in a mining accident some years ago. Now he's president of the Huntly Bowling Club and one of its best players. He has twice won the club championship, playing with artificial arms.

Bomb Tests Discourage Chicago Scientists; Radioactivity Increase 300 Per Cent

CHICAGO (UP)—Recent the air at Chicago by 300 per cent.

Scientists who study cosmic rays in this midwestern metropolis complained today that H-bomb experiments are making it harder to conduct their research. They are being showered with radioactive dust.

Dr. G. S. Reiffel of the Illinois Institute of Technology was quick to point out that the radioactivity reflected from the Marshall Islands to Chicago was not harmful to human beings.

Nevertheless, Reiffel said, the H-bomb tests are making it rough on scientists.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

The IOF Cadet Corps, RCA, is having trouble training a brass band. The trouble is, the band has been rehearsing for some time, and the members are learning all about music, but no sounds come out. The band hasn't any instruments. I wish to congratulate the IOF Cadet Corps band. It is the first brass band in history completely painless to the human ear.

However, if you have a neighbor who practices on the cornet at 2 a.m., you could do everybody a good turn by persuading him to give or loan it to the band. Call Lieut. Fred Fotheringham, B.5219.

The 12 Navy Avenger planes, originally scheduled to arrive here Friday, have been delayed in Calgary. The reason given is, someone put water in the gasoline. But don't be alarmed. This is not a case of sabotage. An absent-minded member of the ground crew forgot he had changed jobs. He used to work for the liquor control board.

Speaking of the navy, a somewhat snarly constituent wishes to know if the members of the Victoria city council are influenced by proximity to the RCN establishment at Esquimalt.

Constituents says the council, too, wants to be known as the silent service.

If you don't believe this true story, ask my friend Gordon Bentham.

Gordon attempted to telephone me the other day, and dialed incorrectly with the following result.

VOICE: Hello?

GORDON: Hello, is Monte there?

VOICE: Monte? Monte, who?

GORDON: Monte Roberts.

VOICE: Oh, that guy who writes for The Times?

GORDON: Yes.

VOICE: No, he's not here. This is the office of Dr. Blank, the chiropractor.

GORDON: Oh, I'm sorry.

VOICE: Don't be sorry. Monte might be here any time. Goodness knows he's corny enough.

Ah, what wonderful feeling! Enthusiastic supporters in every walk of life, that's what I have.

Still Practicing

Saturday was a black day for the members of the Anderson family, of 180 Montreal, Donald, nine; above, was playing second base in his first try-out for a Little League baseball team when another player ran into him and broke his foot in three places. His dad rushed him and the attending first aid to St. Joseph's where a cast was fitted. Dad took the first aid man back to the game and was returning to the hospital when another car crashed into the back of his car. But you can't keep the Anderson boys down. Donald returned to spring training today, from the waist up, anyway. (Times photo)

SEVEN DRUG APPEALS SCHEDULED

Narcotics 'King' Case on Thursday

George Mallock, drug czar of the West Coast, serving 21 years imprisonment on three narcotic indictments, and six other men convicted on dope charges, will appeal their convictions before the B.C. Court of Appeal to open at the courthouse here Tuesday.

Mallock's case is expected to come for hearing before the Court of Appeal on Thursday.

The accused, once No. 4 man on the RCMP list of most wanted men, was convicted by a Vancouver Assize Court of selling narcotics, illegal possession of narcotics and giving away of narcotics.

$17,000 FINE

He was sentenced to seven years on each count, 16 run consecutively, with a fine of $17,000 with the alternative of serving seven additional years.

Mallock at his trial was described as the "kingpin" of a business dealing in the murdering of souls of the people.

Other dope cases listed for hearing involve William Richard Emery, Nick Propchuck, Harvey Priddle, Christian Rothwell, Albert Earl Martin and John Bing Wong. They are all appealing against convictions of possessing dope.

VICTORIA CASE

To date there is only one Victoria appeal listed for hearing. This is the case of Florence Haig, appealing against a conviction of obstructing the city building inspector from entering her Rockland Avenue home. The case will revolve around a point of law of whether the building inspector has the right to enter private dwellings without legal formalities.

County Court Judge J. B. Clearhue ruled in lower court that the building inspector had the right at any time and without notice to enter a private dwelling. His ruling was based on the City Building By-law.

Mrs. Haig's appeal will be pleaded by lawyer J. A. Byers.

OTHER CASES

Other criminal cases are as follows: Robert James Vallans, convicted of theft under $25; Marion Jacobs, vagrancy; Peter Oscar Jorgensen, arson; Maurice Coumont, causing grievous bodily harm; James Grant, breaking and entering; Albert Victor Watson, breaking and entering; Melville William Smith, false pretences; Robert Anderson, assault; Milton Christian, sale of liquor; Wong Nam et al, found in a disorderly house.

There are also 12 civil cases listed for hearing before the court.

Tire Prices Cut By Six Per Cent

Passenger car tire prices have been cut by 6 per cent as a result of reductions in excise and sales taxes announced by Finance Minister Abbott.

Reductions, which varied for passenger, truck and other types of tires, went into effect in Victoria last week. Mr. Abbott's announcement was contained in his budget, presented to Commons Tuesday.

Actual saving amounts to from $1.65 to $1.80 on the most common tire.

Alberni Man Dead From Rifle Shot

An Alberni man, John Mowakowski, 21, was found dead Sunday from wounds inflicted by a .22 calibre rifle, RCMP here said today.

No details of the fatality were released but police added there is no possibility of foul play.

Mock Air Attack Blocked By Sharp-Eyed V.I. Spotters

RCAF bomber and fighter aircraft in one of the largest mock aerial attacks on Vancouver Island Sunday failed to penetrate the defenses of the island's Ground Observer Corps, it was reported today.

The planes, manned by regular and reserve crews, tried to avoid detection by the ground observers as they staged mock attacks on island centres throughout the day.

Forty-five members attended, Peter Schoening of Seattle, who took part in the 1953 U.S. expedition to K2, one of the world's highest peaks in Kashmir, India, was guest speaker.

TODAY'S GARDEN HINT

Mulch Your Rhododendrons

The chief point in the cultivation of rhododendrons and azaleas (the latter, by the way, are also rhododendrons) is the understanding of their root systems.

Their requirements became more clear to me when I discovered the plants are naturally shallow rooting. This fact explained their need for a thick mulch before the dry weather begins in order to retain the moisture in the soil and prevent the heat of the sun from reaching their roots.

A mulch of thoroughly soaked peat moss is considered best, although several inches of oak leaves, or pine needles are good. These mulches, as they decompose,

IT CAN AND DOES HAPPEN HERE

Ken McPhail, 8417 Leslie, called police at 8:30 Saturday night. Someone had stolen his car from where he had parked it at Courtney and Douglas.

Police found it a few minutes later, and questioned driver David Evans, 1501 Fort.

Evans said he had taken it, by mistake.

Police had heard that story before but they went back to the scene of the alleged crime with the man.

Sure enough, parked just ahead of the spot the disputed car had occupied was another of the same color, age and appearance.

It belonged to Evans.

Small Boats Miss Seattle H-Bomb Search

Small craft traveling between Victoria and Puget Sound points will not be stopped in the U.S. Coast Guard search to prevent smuggling of nuclear and thermomuclear weapons into Seattle.

When the original announcement that "anything that floats" would be stopped, Victoria Chamber of Commerce asked the Seattle chamber to establish additional check points for the benefit of local sailors.

Hector L. Crombie, managing secretary of the local chamber, heard today that small vessels using the Deception Pass, Saratoga Pass, and Whidbey Island route to Seattle would not be subject to examination.

"Regulations now being invoked by the Coast Guard for the purpose of checking large vessels," wrote R. D. Mohr of Seattle's Marine Exchange.

"However, when small craft enter Puget Sound by the Admiralty Inlet route, they are required to establish their identity."

Originally it was understood that any vessel failing to pass through the examination area between Point Wilson and Marrowstone Points "may be subject to gunfire."

The chamber here pointed out that small boats avoid that particular route, and asked that an examination point be established on the more sheltered route to the east.

Former Consul Dies in South

Funeral services were held Saturday in Los Angeles for George Augustus Bucklin, one-time U.S. consul in Victoria, who died last Wednesday at age 78.

Mr. Bucklin spent most of his life as a consul, and served in Victoria for 10 years, from September, 1924, to August, 1934.

Born in West Hartford, Missouri, he attended Southwest Kansas College, University of Oklahoma and Yale. Before entering consular service he was a member of the faculty at the University of Oklahoma, serving from 1900 to 1903 as registrar, and from 1904-06 as the professor in charge of the department of economics and sociology.

Before his Victoria assignment, he served in Glouchau, Germany; San Luis Potosi, Mexico; Guatemala City, Guatemala; Bordeaux, France; Paris, France; Coblenz, Germany, and Acapulco, Mexico.

After his 10 years here, he served three years as U.S. consul general to New Zealand.

He is survived by his wife and four daughters: Mrs. Mary Hammond and Mrs. Logan Mayhew, both of Victoria; Mrs. Velma Bassingthwaite of Toronto, and Mrs. Adele Luker of Bakersfield, Cal.

Alpine Club Marks 47th Anniversary

The Victoria section, Canadian Alpine Club, observed the 47th anniversary of the club's founding in Winnipeg in 1907 at an annual dinner at the Pacific Club Saturday.

Forty-five members attended, Peter Schoening of Seattle, who took part in the 1953 U.S. expedition to K2, one of the world's highest peaks in Kashmir, India, was guest speaker.

Increase Hinted In Airline Rates

New Air Search Plan Proposed By AITA Parley

Would Ease Load on RCAF

More co-ordination between civilian flyers and the RCAF in searching for lost aircraft is the objective of a committee set up today by the Air Industries and Transport Association meeting in the Empress Hotel.

The committee will seek to have a civilian "searchmaster" appointed when a civilian plane is lost.

The searchmaster would be a member of the firm that owned the lost plane, instead of having control in RCAF hands, as at present. The committee believes this would make for more efficient operation, especially in bush country which civilian flyers often know better than RCAF pilots.

Veteran pilot and Arctic explorer J. H. "Red" Lymburner is chairman of the committee.

SIGNAL ROCKET

It also may suggest that all civilian aircraft be equipped with a new one-pound, signal rocket which can be seen for 75 to 100 miles at night. The plan would be to set up a specific hour at which survivors of any plane would fire the rocket.

The committee also will discuss with radio manufacturers the possibility of developing a set which would broadcast automatically on a distress frequency for a week at a time.

Revenues Lag Behind Higher Operating Costs

A strong hint that airline passenger and freight rates may have to be increased in the near future was given here today as T. P. Fox, Edmonton, president of Air Industries and Transport Association, reported to the semi-annual meeting in Empress Hotel.

Mr. Fox pointed out that cost of air transport has decreased since 1945, an opposite trend to most commodities. "Airline revenue is not increasing in comparison to rising costs," he said.

"It might be necessary to consider the advisability of some upward revision of rates to meet the increased costs of operation."

ATOM AIRCRAFT

West-Bound Flyers May Outpace Clock

Atomic powered aircraft will supersede the piston engine, turbo-prop and turbo-jet, H. D. Cameron, district controller of Air Services, Department of Transport, Vancouver, said here today.

Addressing a luncheon meeting of the Air Industries and Transport Association in Empress Hotel, Mr. Cameron forecast fantastic speed of transport.

"Some experts say in 25 years you will be able to have your breakfast in Montreal, fly here in the three hours which you will recover from the zone changes, and arrive here at the time you left," he said.

FLYING BOAT START

Mr. Cameron said the atomic powered engine may start in a flying boat "within a few years" because that type of aircraft fits in with some of the special radiation-shielding problems to be solved. "But soon man's ingenuity will reduce those shielding problems," he said, "and aviation will have achieved its ideal fuel, which will speed aircraft across continents with fuel consumption measured in fractions of ounces."

Wide use of electronic devices to control aircraft was also forecast by Mr. Cameron, who spoke on his personal opinions on the next 50 years of aviation.

"A tape or card will be prepared with the details concerning weather, winds, route, and aircraft type," he said. "From then on electronic brains will take the plane off, guide it to its destination, enter it into the traffic pattern at the proper place and moment and bring it in for a perfect landing."

However, Mr. Cameron said he believed would be eliminated. "They must be there to monitor the whole flight because those clever automatic black boxes sometimes go wrong."

MORE 'HELLIES'

Mr. Cameron could also see increasing use of helicopters. "The trip from your home to the airport will doubtless be made in your five-passenger helicopter," he said.

"Helicopters will carry almost all passengers and considerable high-value freight over most trips under 200 or 300 miles, although we will, of course, continue to use cheaper water or rail transportation for the large quantities of lower-value freight."

ASK THE TIMES

Q.—I have been told that many years ago there was a hunt club in Victoria. Is that correct?—T.W.L.

A.—Yes. An item in the Times Nov. 14, 1910, said: "Surmounting the hurdles and other obstacles in the course with the ease and perfection of experienced horsemen and horsewomen, the initial run of the Victoria Hunt Club was a complete success. About 20 participated."

Q.—Will you please tell me what day of the week was Nov. 14, 1910?—Mrs. A.L.P.

A.—That date was a Monday. It came during a period which changed the history of this community. The people were still welcoming the cruiser Rainbow, whose arrival at Esquimalt marked the taking over by Canada of the naval base, until then controlled by the British Admiralty. The cruiser Niobe was stationed in Halifax. That was the birth of the Canadian navy. On the evening of Nov. 10 the city of Victoria had tendered a banquet in honor of the officers and crews of the Rainbow and the sloop of war Shearwater.

FUN WITH FIGURES

By J. A. HUNTER

Mr. White loves kids, especially the noisy, rather grubby youngsters whom he meets so often going home in the street-car. The kids love him, too, and always tell him the latest news from school. Today they told him about the new teacher. When he asked what she is like, they chorused: "Oh, she's old!" Amused by this, as he happens to know the girl, who is an old school friend of his youngest daughter, Mr. White asked what they meant by "old." One said she must be 27, another suggested 31, a third was sure she is 36, and the fourth child went right-up to 39. In fact, one guess was only one year out, one erred by three years, one was six years wrong and one was as much as nine years from the truth. Could you have told them teacher's age?

Saturday's answer: The boys had 39 marbles among them.

An inquiry, but no formal coroner's inquest, will be held this week into the death of a Saanich man found dead in a well near his home Saturday.

The inquiry will be conducted by Coroner E. C. Hart.

The victim, who apparently drowned when he fell into the well, is 61-year-old Henry Dickinson, 347 Ivor Road.

Body was found by a search party of Saanich police and South Vancouver Island Rangers.

City police rushed to a Nanaimo Street address at 3:40 a.m. Sunday when a voice on the phone said there had been a "killing. They rushed a bleeding man to hospital where a cut on his ear was treated. Then he admitted to officers that he had been hit with a bottle wielded by an irate wife.

Trades and Labor Council meetings in Victoria this week are as follows: Monday—Painters, pressmen and bricklayers. Tuesday—Plumbers, moulders, hotel and restaurant workers and R.O.B. park workers. Wednesday—Longshoremen. Thursday—Milk salesmen.

Canadian Congress of Labor Meetings: Tuesday—Shipwrights. Thursday—Div. 276, CBRE.

Saanich firemen extinguished a kitchen blaze in a home at 886 Breit at 11:30 p.m. Sunday. No estimate of damages was available.

Attractive Straw Hats
Hand-Made in Local Store

By PENNY SAVER

Have you bought your Easter bonnet yet? You should have, but then, perhaps you're like me. I had the worst time finding one I liked! I wanted a small hat of blue straw — and do you think I could find one to suit me? No!

Then, several days ago I looked in a store window and saw THE hat. It was everything I had been looking for — except for one thing. It was pink. And pink simply won't combine with my new Easter outfit.

Nevertheless I went inside and tried the hat on — perfect. I looked about, and not seeing any blue hats, I asked the sales clerk who said:

"No, we don't have this hat in blue," and my heart sunk. What to do now? But then she continued,

"However, I can have one made up for you in blue." To my great delight, she took my order and now my blue straw hat, complete with hand-embroidery of seed pearls and rhinestones, is being made.

It is going to cost me $9.95, which is reasonable, indeed, when one considers that it is wearable spring and summer. Why don't you try this shop? If they don't have the hat of your dreams on display, tell them about it. I'll bet they can make it up for you, in the color you desire.

Speaking of rhinestones and pearl trimming, I'm going to buy some packets of the sew-on stones and try to match the trim on my hat by sewing them on the cuffs of a pair of blue gloves. You can get the packages of rhinestones — now in two sizes — for 25 cents, which is also the price of the pearls. Pearls come in various sizes and shapes. (Some of them are tear drops, and very pretty).

AS WE LIVE

Young Girl Annoyed by Old Man's Advances

By ELIZABETH B. HURLOCK, PhD

There is nothing that will scare off young men more quickly than to see a young girl spending her time with a man old enough to be her grandfather. A young girl writes:

(Q) "I am 18 years old and have a big problem. I enjoy dancing and I go to dances very often. There is an old man of 70 who is always at these dances, and he insists on occupying most of my time. I allow him to dance with me and buy me a drink, but I am very annoyed by his attention. I want to meet some nice young fellows, but every time one comes around this man acts so possessive that the boys think I'm the old man's girl, and I never see them again. I am beginning to despise the man. I don't want to hurt his feelings, but I want to tell him to leave me alone. Can I do this tactfully?"

(A) Without realizing it, you have encouraged this man by being willing to dance with him and permitting him to buy you drinks. Naturally he feels that you like him.

You can't blame the young men for thinking that you are interested in this old man and steering clear of you. Even more serious, they are likely to get the impression that you are a "gold digger." After all, why would a young girl spend so much time with a man of 70 if she were not interested in his money or what he can do for her?

Young men will avoid any girl, who, they feel, is out to obtain as many material advantages for herself as she can. You have probably given the impression of being this type of person.

Why not stay away from the dances for several months and let your old man find another girl to dance with? Then, when you return, he will not bother you any more. Or, you might arrange to go to the dances with a young man whom you know well. It would do your reputation a great deal of good to be seen with him.

Dr. Hurlock will help you with family problems. Write her in care of this newspaper.

A perfect accent for fresh summer fruits are plump, cooked prunes. Their jet black color contrasts the bright colors of seasonal fruits, and their heartiness adds extra nutrition. Top a small salad bowl of cottage cheese with dark pitted prunes, golden melon balls and fresh strawberries. Makes the most colorful salad you've ever seen!

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Feet Growing Old Ahead of You? Change Shoes

If you're nudging 40 but feel more like 60, your feet may be at the bottom of it all.

I wonder how many of my readers realize that foot troubles are more prevalent and usually more serious from middle age on.

This is due to several factors. In the first place, at this time, past abuses begin to show, abuses in health as well as in foot care. After years during which you wore shoes which did not give you proper support or were poorly fitted, the old dogs begin to protest.

Foot specialists say that most women over 40 who limp into their offices have been wearing soft felt slippers or high heels for years when doing their housework. The soft fabric slipper does not give the metatarsal arch sufficient support when you are on your feet for hours each day. The high heels do not provide a broad enough base. Your feet wobble and this results in strains.

The results can be fatigue and vague aches as well as pains or cramps in the legs.

The woman who is walking into middle age should be particularly careful to wear the correct shoe when she is working at home or at her job. If she is on her feet a lot of the time, she should have a low-heeled, all-leather oxford which gives her toes freedom of movement and allows her feet to "breathe." The heels of this shoe should not be more than an inch-and-a-half high at the most.

The sort of shoe a woman wears while working is especially important because her circulation may not be what it was when she was sweet 16. The tendency to swollen ankles in middle aged women is often encouraged by the habit of wearing high heels or non-supporting shoes. Of course, swollen ankles should always be investigated by your physician because these can come from disease. However, shoes often play their part.

Remember, too, that the average middle-aged woman weighs more than she did in younger days and this imposes an extra burden on her feet. You need a firm foundation for your daily activities!

If you would like to have my exercises for the feet, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 14, "Take Care of Your Feet." Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Vancouver Pianist Joins Singer Frankie Laine

VANCOUVER (UPI)—The talents of a 25-year-old pianist who pounded ivories till the wee hours of the morning in a local night club have been recognized by famed American singer Frankie Laine.

Regina-born Chris Cagle was noticed by Laine during the latter's March engagement at the club.

Shortly after Laine returned to Los Angeles his friend and pianist, Carl Fischer, died of a heart attack, which left Frankie without an accompanist and a Victoria Meistersingers, with accompanist Maquinn Anderson.

Victoria Singing Groups Win B.C. Titles; Band Edged

Two provincial championships were brought to Victoria by local groups participating in the B.C. Music Festival, Saturday night in Vancouver.

The Meistersingers, a 20-voice men's group, for the second successive year won the crown for the best male choir. It scored 170 points, compared with 168 by the only other competitor, the B.C. Electric Glee Club of Vancouver.

The Meistersingers, led by Dudley Wickert, brought home the Joseph Williams shield. The choir is scheduled to present an evening's concert Wednesday, April 21, at Sir James Douglas School at 8, sponsored by the Fairfield United Church Men's Club.

"Betts and Her Buddies," a Victoria mixed quartette, was awarded championship recognition. The group won particularly high praise from the adjudicator for its rendition of the spiritual "Little David Play on Your Harp."

Members of the quartette are Elizabeth (Betty) and William (Bud) Buchan, Leonard Steck and Edward (Ted) Boulden.

The Victoria High-Central Junior High Schools Band, under conductor Rowland Grant, last year's winner in open junior band competition, placed second this year. The title reverted to the Kitsilano Boys Band, which previously had held the championship from 1927.

The Kitsilano group scored 91 and 89 points. The Victoria group received 87 and 85, while the third-place Vancouver City Band was credited with 85 and 83.

RCAF Hangar Razed by Fire In Alberta; Heavy Damage

PENHOLD, Alta. (CP)—Fire razed a large wooden hangar of the RCAF flying training school here Saturday, causing damage estimated as high as $1,000,000. Penhold is 100 miles south of Edmonton.

No one was injured but several Harvard training planes were destroyed. The public relations officer at the air force station said damage would run between $750,000 and $1,000,000.

The station fire brigade, bolstered by 200 service men and the fire department from nearby Red Deer, helped keep the flames from spreading to a nearby hangar and other buildings.

Explosions from cleaning fluid and gasoline rocked the hangar which was built during the Second World War.

Several aircraft in a nearby hangar were moved while water was played on the building and on the fire hall which was only 150 feet from the blazing hangar.

No one was in the hangar when the fire broke out. The frame building collapsed an hour later.

An inquiry was immediately opened to determine the cause of the blaze.

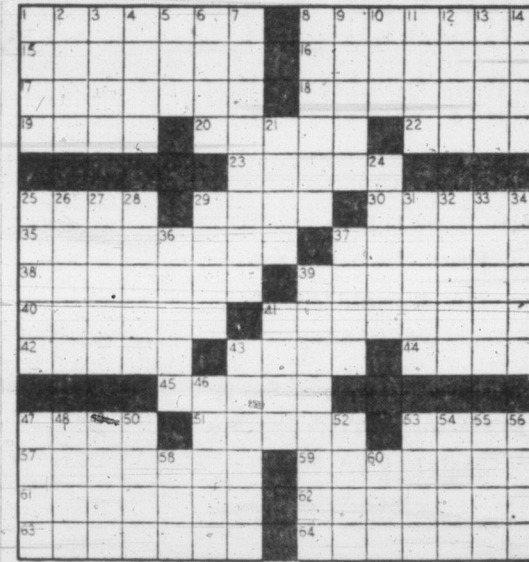

WOMAN JURIST

ANKARA (CP)—Mrs. Melahat Ruacan, 48, appointed a judge of Turkey's High Court of Appeals here, is perhaps the only woman in the world to have received a Supreme Court post.

She graduated as a lawyer in 1929 and since then has held various positions in the ministry of justice.

ALBERTA UNEMPLOYMENT

Weather, Grain Slow-Down
Put 90,000 Out of Work

EDMONTON (BUP)—The Alberta labor department today blamed unusually severe winter weather, a slow-down of grain shipments to the east and an unusual decline in retail sales for the unemployment on the prairies.

A general review of labor conditions issued by the department said there were 90,000 fewer persons at work than at the same time last year.

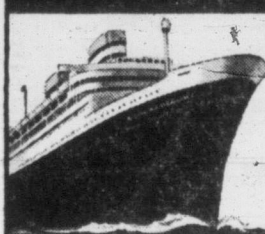

The report said extremely low temperatures and heavy snow in January curtailed outdoor work. It said the bad weather cut into employment in construction and allied industries. At the end of January there were more than 30,000 job applications from construction workers alone. This represented more than half the total applications from male workers.

Clad in miner's coveralls and helmet, Princess Margaret leaves elevator cage after visiting one of Britain's largest coal mines near Nottingham. At bottom of the shaft, more than 1,600 feet down, 23-year-old Princess hacked loose a lump of coal and carried it away with her. Before descending into the shaft she broke ground for new mine and named it Cotgrave. (NEA Radio-Telephoto.)

3 Americans
Face Charges
Of Espionage

HONG KONG (UP)—Two American newsmen and a merchant ship captain seized a year ago by the Chinese Communists are being questioned in Peiping by Chinese and Russian intelligence agents on spy charges, it was reported today.

The South China Morning Post said it had received its reports on the missing Americans by mail and secret reports from Peiping.

The men are Richard Applegate, 35, a former United Press war correspondent in Korea, who was working for the National Broadcasting Company at time of his capture; Don Dixon, 26, International News Service correspondent, and Capt. Ben Krasner, 31.

The Morning Post said the three men were handed over to a special Far East intelligence department on Jan. 2. It said they were accused of espionage for the United States and are held in special quarters at 37, Yangshihua, in Peiping.

Daff Airlift Starts,
TCA Flies Half-Million

Victoria's big daffodil airlift began today when two TCA transport planes left Patricia Bay with more than 500,000 Saanich-grown golden blooms for Montreal and Toronto Easter market.

Other large shipments will be freighted by air to other parts of Canada every day this week until Friday.

Hundreds of cartons of daffodils are destined for Winnipeg, Saskatoon, Regina, Calgary and Edmonton.

TCA officials expect to ship over 3,000,000 blooms within the next four days.

"We are shipping the flowers as fast as we can get them," said TCA officials. "As soon as we get a load off we go."

200 GATHER BLOOMS

Meanwhile, over 200 workers are busy picking and packing the flowers on Saanich farms. Today's drizzling rain, however, slowed packing as the blooms had to be dried and cleaned before being placed in cartons for shipment, growers said.

J. F. Vantricht, Jr., operator of one of the largest daffodil farms on Vancouver Island, said the daffodil main crop bloomed on time this year, and it was now only a matter of packing the flowers on time for the scheduled flights to eastern Canada.

"We received large orders for daffodils from eastern firms this year," he said. "We are shipping all we can pick this week."

AIR CONVENTION PRAYS FOR TCA CRASH VICTIMS

A one-minute silence in memory of those who died in the North Star crash near Moose Jaw last Thursday was observed as the Air Industries and Transport Association luncheon opened in Empress Hotel today.

On announcing the silence, T. P. Fox, president of the association, paid special tribute to T. M. Pat Reid, veteran flyer and aviation industry pioneer, who, with his wife, was a victim of the crash. (See funeral story, Page 2).

Mr. Reid was on his way here for the convention.

Interviewed earlier, Mr. Fox said the association would make no official statement on the crash until results of the triple inquiry now under way are announced.

'PIECE OF CAKE' SAYS CUNNINGHAM

RAF Pilot to Ram Comet Through 'Death Barrier'

From UP and AP Dispatches

LONDON—One of Britain's best-known test pilots will ram a Comet jet airliner through the mysterious "death barrier" six miles up in hopes of solving the mystery of three fatal crashes.

The date for the flight was not announced.

The pilot is RAF Group Capt. John Cunningham who won the name of "Cat's Eyes" through his ability to spot Hitler's night bombers during the battle of Britain. He is now chief test pilot for the De Havilland Aircraft Co., which manufactures the Comet.

Cunningham will clutch a microphone in his hand and broadcast a play-by-play account as he rams the Comet through the "death barrier" at full speed.

Sir Miles Thomas, director of the British Overseas Airways Corp., has blamed such a "death barrier" for the Comet crashes.

"It's just another piece of cake," Cunningham said in RAF slang as he prepared for the death-defying climb. "The Comets have climbed this way port for four and a half years without anything going wrong. I've done it scores of times."

De Havilland said Cunningham's flight would be made as soon as the company gives new ground checks to the Comet flown to its suburban Hatfield headquarters on Saturday.

A government spokesman said today "the possibility of sabotage cannot be excluded" as a possible cause of the crash of a Comet jet airliner in the Mediterranean last Thursday with the loss of 21 lives.

J. D. Profumo, parliamentary secretary to the ministry of transport and civil aviation, told the House of Commons the possibility of sabotage and "all other possible causes will certainly be fully investigated."

He said there is no possibility of raising the wreck which went down in 3,120 feet of water about 70 miles south of Naples.

The crash was the fourth disaster to these pioneering jet airliners in 13 months. The last two occurred after the planes had taken off from Rome airports.

The cabinet's first action in drafting all men aged 20-25, announced in Saigon, coincided with a heavy counterattack by French union forces from their foxholes at Dien Bien Phu in an effort to crush a threatened Communist assault.

It was the second heavy French counterattack of the week-end and came after the Reds made six futile efforts to drive French union forces from a strategic hill overlooking Dien Bien Phu.

The cabinet meeting under Premier Prince Bao Loc, estimated the draft would increase the Viet-Nam army by 140,000. The gain will not be larger, officials said, because many young men already have volunteered.

The order was aimed mainly at more even distribution of military service. No longer will rich sons be able to buy exemptions or join one of the numerous religious private armies to dodge national service.

Severe penalties were prescribed for draft dodgers and delinquents will have until April 30 to join up without sanction.

Bloody close-quarter fighting was in progress around the hill which overlooks both the besieged fortress and the Communist positions east of Dien Bien Phu. It is only half a mile from the French command headquarters.

It was the second big French union counter-attack of the week-end. In the first Col. Christian De Castries sent tanks to the hill to save the French and loyal Viet-Nam troops who had beaten back five battalion-size Communist attacks.

The crash was the fourth disaster to these pioneering jet airliners in 13 months. The last two occurred after the planes had taken off from Rome air-

'Go Ahead' Signal Given on Buttle

Reservations Clamped on All Land, Minerals To Clear Way for Construction of Dam

By TOM GOULD

The longest and bitterest water rights battle in the history of B.C. appeared at an end today with clear indications that a start on Buttle Lake storage dam will be made this year.

A reservation has been clamped on all land and minerals bounding Buttle Lake, Campbell River and Upper Campbell Lake, to clear the way for construction.

B.C. power commissioners have reviewed the controversial dam project, and are unanimous in support of past evidence backing construction of the storage dam, it is learned.

ANNOUNCEMENT SOON

An official announcement on the issue is expected shortly.

The Crown reservation encompasses all land and minerals below the 800-foot contour bounding Buttle Lake, Campbell River and all tributaries, and a 750-foot contour bounding Campbell River and Upper Campbell Lake.

Today Prime Minister Jean Van Houtte formally tendered his government's resignation but was asked to stay in office as head of a caretaker government until party negotiations have produced a new cabinet. ### Dulles Presses Eden To 'United Action'

(From AP and UP Dispatches)

LONDON—Britain has rejected John Foster Dulles' proposal for an immediate warning to Communist China against further intervention in the Indo-China war, diplomatic sources in London said tonight.

In talks with Dulles here today, Foreign Secretary Eden said Britain could not agree to a western warning to Peiping before the Geneva conference on the Far East opens in two weeks, the sources said.

The U.S. state secretary is understood to have accepted Eden's argument that nothing must be done now to jeopardize any chances of a negotiated Indo-China truce at the Geneva talks with Russia and Communist China.

However, Dulles and Eden agreed in principle to sponsor a "Pacific pact," aimed at deterring Communist aggression in Southeast Asia along the lines of the 14-nation Atlantic pact, the London sources said. It would be set up if the Geneva conference failed to bring peace in Indo-China.

Eden is said to have outlined these objections to an immediate warning to the Chinese Communist government:

1. A declaration of common aims in the Far East cannot be rushed. The British government must prepare public opinion, which is wary of any involvement in new Korea, for the contemplated united front moves.

2. There is no new development in the Indo-China war which justifies hasty counter-measures. The onset of the rainy season early next month will slow military operations in Indo-China, and give the West a chance to plan a careful program of action.

GO-SLOW POLICY

Another factor in the government's go-slow policy is the opposition of two of Britain's Asian Commonwealth partners—India and Pakistan—to British involvement in what they regard as the "Indo-Chinese colonial war."

The U.S. secretary puts his arguments directly to Churchill tonight, when he dines with the prime minister at 10 Downing Street.

The opposition Labor party meanwhile stepped up demands that Churchill tell Dulles that not "a single British man or gun" will be used in Indo-China.

In Paris, where Dulles flies Tuesday to see Premier Laniel and Foreign Minister Bidault, the French cabinet today was reported fearful that strong public words to the Reds now would doom in advance any chance of negotiating an Indo-Chinese peace in Geneva.

That also is the British government's view.

NEGOTIATE FROM STRENGTH

Dulles flew here Sunday from Washington to press his contention that the West can negotiate with the Communists in Geneva only from a "position of strength," and that such a position can be reached only through the strong declaration of united action.

The two diplomatic chiefs began their discussions informally Sunday night at dinner at the home of the U.S. ambassador, Winthrop Aldrich.

5 Violent B.C. Deaths On Week-End

VANCOUVER (BUP)—Five persons died violently in British Columbia during the week-end.

Lawrence Albert Cain, 42, of Vancouver, was found hanging from a beam in a partly-completed house near his home.

John Rissonen and Paddy Haines were found by Canadian navy frogmen in the cab of their submerged truck in Mara Lake near Sicamous.

Snead Wins Masters' Playoff One Up

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Sammy Snead took advantage of Ben Hogan's erratic putting today and defeated the little Texan by one stroke in their 18-hole playoff for the 1954 Masters golf championship. Snead had a 70, Hogan a 71.

Probe Launched Into Penhold Fire

OTTAWA (CP)—Defense Minister Claxton says an investigation has been launched into Saturday's $1,000,000 fire at the RCA station at Penhold, Alta.

Mr. Claxton today told the Commons in reply to a question by Gordon K. Fraser (PC-Peterborough), that he could make no statement on the fire until the inquiry is completed.

Six-Point No-Confidence Motion

OTTAWA (CP)—A six-point want-of-confidence motion criticizing the government's financial policies has been proposed in the Commons by the official Opposition.

A-Arms Urged for W. German Army

BONN, Germany (UP)—West Germany's defense chief, Theodore Blagk, urged today that the future West German army should be trained to handle atomic weapons, including the American Army's new 280-millimeter cannon now stationed in this country.

Wing Section of Harvard Recovered

MOOSE JAW (CP)—The RCMP announced at noon today the recovery of a wing section of the Harvard plane involved in Thursday's 37th death air disaster here.

The wing had vanished from the Willowdale golf course, on which it landed after the training aircraft had been in collision with a TCA North Star.

Police, reticent about details of the disappearance, said information received voluntarily led to recovery of the piece of wreckage. They would not say where it was found or if any charges would be laid.

Prince Nicholas Dies in Car Crash

DATCHET, Eng. (Reuters)—Prince Nicholas of Yugoslavia, once mentioned by newspaper columnists as a possible suitor of Princess Margaret, died after a car crash here early today.

His open sports car skidded and crashed off the road on the outskirts of this Buckinghamshire country village near London, after making a sharp turn. It plunged upside down into a deep ditch.

Coast Road Survey Requested

Liberal MLA Gordon Gibson stated today that he will ask the Legislature to urge the government to carry out surveys of possible routes for a Squamish-Vancouver highway.

Mr. Gibson, the member for Lillooet, has served notice of motion on the House order paper on the request. He wants one survey made through the Vancouver watershed, and another around Howe Sound.

Mr. Gibson has pressed for a road around Howe Sound, constructed as part of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway extension.

Eden Rejects Dulles' Plan To Warn Reds

(From AP, UP Dispatches)

LONDON — Britain has rejected John Foster Dulles' proposal for an immediate warning to Communist China against further intervention in the Indo-China war, diplomatic sources in London said tonight.

In talks with Dulles here today, Foreign Secretary Eden said Britain could not agree to a western warning to Peiping before the Geneva conference on the Far East opens in two weeks, the sources said.

The U.S. state secretary is understood to have accepted Eden's argument that nothing must be done now to jeopardize any chances of a negotiated Indo-China truce at the Geneva talks with Russia and Communist China.

TWO OBJECTIONS

Eden is said to have outlined these objections to an immediate warning to the Chinese Communist government:

1. A declaration of common aims in the Far East cannot be rushed. The British government must first prepare public opinion, which is wary of any involvement in new Korea, for the contemplated united front moves.

2. There is no new development in the Indo-China war which justifies hasty counter-measures. The onset of the rainy season early next month will slow military operations in Indo-China and give the West a chance to plan a careful program of action.

First Draft of War Ordered by Viet Nam

6 Victorians On Troopship From Korea

Six Victorians and a man from Nanaimo are among 1,400 Canadian soldiers who reached Seattle on a troopship from Korea this morning.

Loaded with souvenirs and mementos from their year's service in the Far East, the bulk of returning soldiers are of the 3rd Battalion, Royal Canadian Regiment.

Fifty-eight of the returnees are from British Columbia. Remainder boarded trains that will take them to prairie and eastern homes.

Only Islander officer among the RCR's was Lieut. R. L. Munson, Nanaimo.

RCR personnel from Victoria on the troopship are Privates T. S. Dick and J. C. Stewart. With other Canadian units on the troopship are Victorians Cpl. M. J. McKinnon (4th Field Squadron, RCE), Cpl. J. E. Ewen, Sapper W. J. Wedgewood and S-Sgt. D. S. Hardisty.

Plane on Way To Vancouver In Trouble

A twin-engine aircraft carrying two men from Hamilton to Vancouver is believed to have crashed early this afternoon in Washington State.

The plane, a Beechcraft, was last reported at 1:17 p.m. when the control tower at McChord Field near Tacoma received a message that one engine had failed.

The plane had landed at Yakima, Wash., and was on the last leg of its trip to Vancouver.

One of the men aboard was reported to be E. M. Cole of Hamilton.

A search for the Beechcraft was started by the U.S. coast guard which sent two planes from Puget Sound and the straits in the event it was forced to "ditch."

Boats also were dispatched to search Puget Sound.

The coast guard said the pilot of the Beechcraft was expected to try to make a dead-stick landing somewhere in the Seattle area.

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (UP)—One man was killed, and two were injured today when an air force C-47 crashed and burned on take-off at Elmendorf Air Force

New Commission May Request Early Start

By TOM GOULD

The longest and bitterest water rights battle in the history of B.C. appeared at an end today with clear indications that a start on Butte Lake storage dam will be made this year.

A resolution has been clamped on all land and minerals bounding Butte Lake, Campbell River and all tributaries, and a Campbell River and Upper Campbell Lake, to clear the way for construction.

B.C. power commissioners have reviewed the controversial dam project, and are unanimous in support of past evidence backing construction of the storage dam, it is learned.

Conservationists led by Rod-erick Haig-Brown have protested the project since it was first advanced in 1951, when hearings were held at Courtenay and Victoria.

The dam will raise the level of Butte Lake a maximum of 29 feet, and would store 15.56 billion cubic feet of storage to

Vandals Break Glass, Set False Fire Alarms

Police Seek Four Men After Flurry Of Week-End Hooliganism; Taxis Called Out

Hoodlums were blamed for seven false fire alarms, at least seven smashed windows and other malicious pranks which harassed residents, police and firemen over the week-end.

In a one-hour period early Sunday morning, alarm boxes were pulled in seven different places in an area bounded by Cook, Blanshard, Empress and Courtney Streets. Police are searching for a car with four occupants which was reported circling the troubled district at that time.

Earlier, at 9:20 p.m. Saturday, Ralph Smellie, 1141 Caledonia, told police he had been besieged by a number of taxis who were sent to his address by an unknown caller.

Saatchi police reported two windows were smashed there and there were two more in Esquimalt. A similar act of vandalism took place at Jimmy Little's store at Pembroke and Quadra when a window seven by nine was shattered. Once again the culprits were seen leaving in a car.

At 3:50 a.m. police found an eight-foot square plate-glass window in an Esquimalt Road Safeway had been smashed.

WINDSHIELDS SMASHED

A car was seen speeding away from the home of J. D. McKenzie, 1442 Rockland, after a rock was hurled through a four-by-five-foot window at 1:35 a.m. At 2:40 a.m., a similar act of vandalism took place at Jimmy Little's store at Pembroke and Quadra when a window seven by nine was shattered. Once again the culprits were seen leaving in a car.

Figgered out a cheaper way t' spoil Butte Lake than buildin' a dam. Why not use power from th' new mainland cable t' pump water up an' flood th' park?

Legislation's born a little different from a baby. F'in-stance in this anti-strike act, th' labor pains'll come later.

M' Uncle Zeke's scared that one more warm Sunday like that an' he's goin' t' hev t' start gardenin'.
